JULY IS MONTH IN WHICH TO TRANSFER PUPILS

The Mexia School Board is doing its utmost now to call attention to the surrounding school districts to the superb facilities for education offered them by the Mexia High School and the entire Mexia Public School system.

Notice is being given now that parents who desire to send their pupils here may transfer them at once to the Mexia Schools and thus secure for their children the advantages of facilities unsurpassed elsewhere in Texas and the influence and aid of a splendid faculty of school officials and teachers as can be found in the State.

It is pointed out that the month of July is the period prescribed by law in which to make transfers legal and official and compliance is urged upon every parent or pupil who wishes to take full advantage of the approaching session of 1924-25. July the 31st is the last day in which this can be done but in order to avoid the rush, transfers are encouraged any day from now until then.

The notice states:

"All parties who wish to transfer their children from other districts to Mexia Independent School District, will please see J. D. Arrington at the City Hall. All transfers must be made in the month of July."

This statement is signed by David Murphy, Secretary of the School Board.

There were about 100 transfers in 1923-24. These transfers came from several surrounding school districts and thereby the Mexia district was enabled to extend its services to many homes outside the corporate limits of the city of Mexia and beyond the borders of the district proper.

More than that number are expected to be recorded and enrolled this next session, which now gives promise of being the best school period ever known to Mexia.

It is pointed out that when transfers are made, the tuition provided by the state fund follows the student. Thus, the Mexia District is enabled to extend to those who transfer the advantages of a full nine months' period for the price of three months, since the school funds of the state provide only for three months, whereas state and local school funds enable the city to extend through a nine months period.

The attention of residents of all surrounding districts and to every farmer in the town continues to Mexia that they may secure for their children the advantages of a high school here, close approximation to the advantage of a Junior College and that at no more expense to them than attendance upon the regular territorial schools involves.

Welcome to Mexia Schools!

PISTOL FIGHT IS FATAL TO TWO TEXARKANA CITIZENS

TEXARKANA, Texas, July 12.—David Read is dead and John Martin is probably fatally wounded as the result of a pistol duel near here last night. According to reports Read and wife were met by Martin who called Read to task for alleged mistreatment of Mrs. Read, who is Martin's sister, and a quarrel followed. Martin fell with a bullet hole through his neck but he shot Read through the heart.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Roy left today to spend their vacation in New Mexico. While away they will visit old Mexico also.

MCADOO ACCORDS CORDIAL AID TO DAVIS

NEW YORK, July 12.—John W. Davis will fit the needs of the progressive Democratic Party and will have the support of William Gibbs McAdoo, the Californian announced before sailing to Europe today.

McAdoo pledged himself to work for the Davis-Bryan combination when he returns from his trip abroad early in September.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo, their daughter, his secretary and political secretary, Bruce Claggett sailed on the Berengaria.

The statement given out by McAdoo follows:

"Mr. Davis and I have been friends for the past twelve years and I had the pleasure of discussing the political situation with him yesterday. The great body of progressive Democrats who supported me strongly in the convention have been anxious to know my attitude towards Mr. Davis' candidacy, and my visit was for the purpose of leaving from Mr. Davis direct on the views on the important issues before the country. I am satisfied that he is in full accord with the Progressive program outlined in the Democratic platform."

"Mr. Davis' professional connections and association with great banking houses and corporate interests, although concededly ethical in every way, have raised doubts in the minds of many as to his progressivism and as to his complete sympathy with the great reforms the Democratic party must execute if it is to serve the genuine interests of the people. These doubts are not justified, because a lawyer's views on economic, political and social questions are no more to be judged by his professional associations than is a physician's to be judged by the character of his patients. Mr. Davis' high character, integrity and service should satisfy any apprehension of this sort. I am confident that, as President, he would faithfully execute the party's progressive mandate. If I did not believe this, I could not render aid, because I have always believed that the interests of the people should never be subordinated to a merely selfish partnership."

"There is a deep seated determination on the part of the progressive forces within the Democratic party and those outside of it to determine to force prompt and decisive action on the part of the administration for solution of the present problems of agriculture, transportation, tariff, taxation and foreign relations, which have been so terribly handicapped by the Republican administration. The influence and power of these progressive forces must not be dissipated by division of various political movements, they must rather be consolidated and used like an irresistible battering ram on that party which offers the best in truthfulness for service to the people. Clearly there is no promise in the Republican party. Clearly there is a promise in the Democratic party in this progressive influence is wisely and vigorously used within that political organization. The hope of genuine reform and progress is more likely to be realized at this time through the Democratic party than through any of its opponents."

"I call therefore give the Davis-Bryan ticket my cordial support and shall take part in the campaign upon my return early in September."

POPE PIUS QUIET AS TO ANNULMENT OF GOULD WEDDING

ROME, July 12.—Statements that Pope Pius has ratified annulment of marriage of the former Anna Gould to Count Boni De Castellane, are premature as yet and no official announcement has been made, the United Press was informed from reliable Vatican sources today.

The only basis for such statements, apparently, is a report being circulated here that the commission of three Cardinals appointed by the Holy Father to investigate the case has voted for the annulment. This report comes from sources not usually considered reliable.

Cardinal Sidi, president of the Cardinals commission, is out of Rome at present and can not be reached. Attorney Forrati and Sacconi, who represented the interested parties before the commission state the case has been disposed of, but that the divorce remains secret.

Anna Gould is now the Duchess Talleyrand, having married the Duke after her civil divorce. De Castellane applied for a papal annulment soon after the civil divorce decree but failed.

Old Confederates To Be Banqueted Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday at noon at the Reunion Grounds the old Confederates and their wives will be given a big banquet dinner by the Sons and Daughters, to which all old Confederates are invited, whether they are members of Joe Johnston Camp or not. Some short talks will be made and it is intended to spend a pleasant hour around the festive board.

Fred Karner is to spend a few days in Dallas this week, leaving for there today. He and Miss Frederika will leave the 24th for Colorado where they will spend quite a while with Colonel A. E. Humphreys at Wagon Wheel Gap.

HALF A HUNDRED CITIZENS BITTEN IN RECENT WEEKS

The Commissioners of the City of Mexia at a session Saturday afternoon, heard a report regarding mad dogs in Mexia and promptly passed an ordinance requiring all dogs to wear a license tag before permitted to run at large, and that license should be issued only when the dog is properly vaccinated against rabies.

Mayor Ernest Watson and Commissioners Rex Forrest and W. C. Wilson heard a report by Dr. W. R. Hodges of the City Sanitary Department, in which it was pointed out that during the past few months 26 people have been sent from here to Austin because of mad dog bites and that at present one family of five is there. In addition to this big number, fully that many more have been treated in the Brown Hospital and by local physicians here. Thus a half a hundred or more have actually suffered and had their lives threatened in recent months by dogs affected and thought to be affected by rabies.

It is believed that the ordinance will prove effective in reducing the danger which is so prevalent at this season of the year and which may prove menacing if something is not done immediately. From reports issued by the State Health department there has been in 1924 a real mad dog epidemic which has sent a constant stream of patients for treatment to the Pasteur Institute at Austin and prompt and adequate precautions are urged everywhere.

Article Six of the new ordinance states that the fact that there is no ordinance regulating the licensing and vaccination of dogs creates an imperative public necessity that the rules requiring ordinances to be read on more than one day be and the same is hereby suspended and that this ordinance take effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

The Chief of Police, Albert Maco, will be given authority at once to kill every dog which is not wearing a license tag unless confined in an enclosure. Any dog wearing the tag attached, as specified, will not be molested.

It has been pointed out that anyone suffering from mad dog bites or who thinks he has been bitten by a dog infected with rabies may receive as good and as safe treatment at the Brown Hospital as he would find in the State Capital and also the physicians of Mexia are as capable in treating the trouble as may be found anywhere and at much less expense.

Family Narrowly Escape Flames

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 12.—Fleeing in their night clothing, W. A. Strouse and Elrod Bond and their wives narrowly escaped burning to death early this morning when their five-room cottage was discovered to be afire. The house was destroyed.

Officers found two stills and the remains of 125 gallons of mash among the ruins. A small quantity of whiskey was found.

Strouse and Bond, who said they were soldiers attached to the 15th Field Artillery, were arrested and held for Federal officers.

HOUSTON WITNESSES STRIKE THREAT'NING BUILDING PROGRAM

HOUSTON, Texas, July 12.—Nine building crafts struck this morning on the construction work of the new Jefferson Davis hospital because of the refusal of the construction company to abide by the decision of the board of jurisdiction awards over whether carpenters or sheet metal workers should hang the metal doors. Indications are that the strike may spread and tie up the $5,000,000 building program here.

SPLAWN NOT YET OFFICIALLY MADE UNIVERSITY HEAD

Before leaving New York, and while the National Democratic Convention was in session, many delegates discussed with Luther Stark, President of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, the report reaching New York that Dr. Walter Splawn had been elected head of the University. Mr. Stark declared that he knew nothing of the affair except that which had been reported to him as having been published in Texas newspapers. He said that he and Regent Story of Dallas had been and were still present at the national convention and that they had not discussed the matter. He said that they had, however, talked of an early meeting of the Regents soon after their return to Texas. Mr. Stark was serving as a delegate from his district and Mr. Story was there in the interest of the Campaign for the Vice Presidency of his law partner, Alvin Owsley.

In speaking of Mr. Splawn, he stated that he was sure that he would make a splendid President, but confined his statement almost solely to that. Quite a number of delegates urged that he was by odds the best man for the place, each extolling the virtues which he recognized in the man, stating that he had more than made good at every task imposed upon him. To this, Mr. Stark fully agreed. The only fault found by anyone discussing the subject was that the present Railroad Commissioner lacked that force of personality found in some men, but it was agreed that he was constantly improving in this respect and that he would bring to the office of the Presidency an executive brain which would be instrumental in developing the University into one of the biggest institutions in America.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dunaway are leaving for San Antonio, Corpus Christi and other gulf cities on their honeymoon. They will be accompanied by Dr. Hinchliff and wife and will be gone about two weeks.

JEFFRIES WINS SATURDAY'S GAME WITH INDIANS

By HECK.

Too much Jeffries was again the cry of the Waco Indians at the ball yard Saturday afternoon when their war cry was changed to a weeping, wailing and moan of distress. It was a great ball game all the way with the Gushers drawing first blood in the second frame when Seely opened the round with a single to center and was out trying to make it a double and the hit took the reverse English and did not go on to the fence. Ted Jones socked a double to right that Caffey said a prayer over before returning it to the infield. Fred Naylor then whammed the pellet far over the left field fence counting himself and Ted. The Indians tallied in the third on William's single, Ragan's hunt and Kelley's hit to center. In the sixth the Indians scored two on successive homers by Caffey and Hall and the six-bit sports yelled with glee and at that it did look like a lot of runs as Speck Ragan was going fine. The Gushers knotted the count in the eighth when the Squibber led off with a single to center. Fowkes sacrificed. Strickland threw out Butler on a great play. Seely came thru with a hard drive that Shires made a great play for and knocked down but Ned out legged him to first while Squib tallied the necessary run to tie the things up. Jeffries took the hill in the eighth and the Indians as usual were absolutely helpless. Both clubs were held in the ninth and the Indians were helpless in the tenth. The Gushers opened the final round with Jeffries hitting a drive that looked good for a home run and Caffey, the Indian right fielder, also had a hunch that the ball was going for a long ride and gave it up. However the drive hit about six inches from the top of the fence and Jeff was perched on third.

PREMIER OF EGYPT SHOT WHILE WAITING AT RY. STATION

CAIRO, Egypt, July 12.—Zaghlul Pasha, Premier of Egypt, was shot and dangerously wounded in a crowded railway station here this morning, as he was about to enter a train for Alexandria.

The Premier was bidding good bye to friends when an unknown man, who had wormed his way through the crowd, suddenly drew a small automatic pistol and opened fire.

There was great excitement for a time and when police arrived the Premier was lying on the station floor with a bullet in his right lung. He was taken to his home where physicians made a hasty examination and declared the Premier's condition is "satisfactory."

The man who fired the shot was set upon by the crowd and badly beaten before he was rescued by police and taken to jail. His name could not be learned during the early excitement nor was there any apparent reason for his act.

There was tremendous excitement throughout the city as it was at first reported the Premier had been killed.

MARBERRY PITCHING GREAT BALL IN EAST

Fred Marberry, who won his spurs with the Mexia Gushers as a Major League pitching possibility in 1922, now with Washington, pitched a game against New York during the National Convention of the Democratic party, opposing veterans of the world's series winning staff. He was given front page headlines in New York papers because of his stellar work, even during the convention when the activities of Madison Square Garden claimed front page space generally.

PARTNERSHIP IS UNACCEPTABLE TO TICKET LEADER

WASHINGTON, July 12.—

There will be no political partnership between La Follette and Governor Charles Bryan, was definitely announced by La Follette aides. La Follette will not approve of Bryan as his running mate because he is unwilling to have any affiliation with either of the old parties.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—La Follette leaders today were the proud parents of a brand new political idea. They call it the "poor man's campaign fund."

Birth of this shapping youngster was announced unofficially as executive heads of the progressive national committee went into closed session here in their first important meeting.

"The 'poor man's campaign fund' its originators say, will solve without trouble the difficult problem of financing an independent candidacy. It will 'prove at once popular and practical.'"

Large contributions will be barred. Millionaires, even if they see fit, will not be allowed to assist La Follette toward the presidential chair. His candidacy, in the interest of the plain people, will be financed by the plain people.

A finance sub-committee of six members has been working out this plan for small and widely distributed gifts since the Cleveland conference and today they were to report. They will not attempt to raise a large fund.

"Our organization has accomplished great things with little money in the past and we expect to do as well in the future," one spokesman said. "The American people are not corrupt. All we need is enough money to broadcast the truth."

Senator La Follette yesterday was approached by the organized railway men. He conferred with representatives of practically all the brotherhoods regarding the political situation and although a definite allegiance was not pledged, progressive leaders expressed themselves as pleased with the result of the visit.

"Fighting Bob" has decided that he will not confine his campaigning to the radio but will make a number of speeches in carrying his issues to the country. He will not leave Washington for the West for at least three weeks, however.

KANSAS BANKING CONDITIONS ARE NOW IMPROVING

TOPEKA, Kans., July 12.—Banking conditions in Kansas are showing great improvement already as a result of the bumper wheat crop harvest this year.

The value of the crop is at least $23,000,000 more than 1922, and the actual cash value probably will be in excess of that figure.

A. R. Wallace, president of the Kansas State Bankers Association, said the wheat crop has already resulted in liquidation of many debts, which caused failure of a large number of banks in the State.

"Bankers and business men are feeling the beneficial effects of the good crop and it will mean a lot to them," Wallace said.

Wallace's only fear was that the State's good crop would get too much publicity and "the speculators will start beating down the prices."

Kansas farmers were skeptical about claiming a bumper yield before the grain had actually been cut, but most of the State's crop has now been harvested.

PRESBYTERIANS OPEN VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

STRONG FACULTY SECURED FOR SYSTEMATIC STUDIES

Daily Vacation Bible School begins Monday, 8:30 at Central Presbyterian Church. A faculty of capable teachers has been secured. Among these teachers are people especially equipped to teach their particular work. Sewing, craft work for boys and girls, singing, drill, dramatics, story telling and Bible Study are among the things provided on the curriculum. The number of courses offered will depend on how many children respond and attend. This school is absolutely free for all children and is given for everybody who desires to attend regardless of faith or religious affiliations.

The foundation of the school is systematic instruction in the Bible and Americanization but a good time is provided for the children as well. All work and no play makes Jack or Jill a dull boy or girl. The useful things of life have an important place in this work.

A treat will be provided each week for the children and a big picnic and over night hike is to be given the boys and girls who have been punctual and faithful during the duration of the school. The work done is to be carefully graded and credits given on each child's report card.

New Type of Coiffure May Bring Peace In the Battle of Bobbed and Unbobbed

By YVONNE LESLIE.

Slavery was a red-hot problem. So was Free Silver. And woman suffrage, and prohibition. And now comes bobbing!

"Horse and buggy!" the bobbed flapper hurls at her unshorn sister. And the latter retorts with the terse but poignant epithet, "Synthetic Sal!"

The word "Sal" has brought a big cash prize. But like Tony, the phrases Horse and Buggy and Synthetic Sal "just grooved." They are the spears of the battling bobs and the long-haired antis.

Bobbing is at a sort of standstill. That is, high life has been reached. The next six months may see the passing of the fad or, on the contrary, its permanent entrenchment in the field of fashion. One problem has been definitely solved, however. The bobber is learning neatness and style of coiffure. A new and ingenious use for the Gainsborough hair net has been designed by leading world hairdressers. It makes a bewitching new coiffure for both

LIONS VOTE TO ADJOURN FOR MONTHS OF SUMMER

Had one not known that the club had voted to adjourn for the summer months they would have thought that the music had just begun. The attendance was the best in the last few months, the lunch served by the Topic Cafe was excellent and the program led by Lion Potet was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

Rotarian Albert H. Berry, guest of Lion Hollingsworth made a splendid talk on the International. Due to the fact that he was in the Lions Den he very graciously shared the honors with the Lions International.

Messrs. Frank Werner, Chas. Clover and Fred Scott introduced as the rough neck trio, rendered a medley of old songs that were enjoyed by everyone and immediately lost for them their new name.

Noel Hollingsworth then gave his report on his trip to the International Convention at Omaha-Nebraska. His report is given in another column in this paper, but we will mention here the telegram from Mrs. Hollingsworth that arrived too late.

President Hughes read a telegram from Lorain, Ohio, asking for funds for the stricken ones in the late storm that swept that part of the country. The club voted to send $50.00 and Lion Hughes true to form immediately matched this with his personal check for the same amount.

The club adjourned until September 5th.

TEXAS OIL PRODUCTION

In the course of a survey of Texas resources and industries that is constantly being made by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company it has been ascertained that in 1923 Texas produced 136,308,382 barrels of petroleum which was valued at approximately $162,200,000. This is a larger number of barrels but slightly lower aggregate value than for either of the last three preceding years.

This oil was produced in 33 counties. In 1922 but 27 counties produced oil, while in 1920 only 22 counties are listed. The greatest production in 1923 came from Navarro County; in 1922 Limestone County led, while in 1921 Stephens County was first and in 1920 Wichita County led the list.

MRS. F. P. HUCHINGSON ENTERTAINS

The "13" Sewing club had one of its "once the month" parties on last Thursday evening with Mrs. Huchingson as hostess.

Mrs. Huchingson chose as her place of entertainment her most comfortable camp at the Reunion Grounds and included as guests, the husbands of the members of the club.

A most delicious dinner was served twenty-two guests being seated at the festive board.

The menu consisted of fried chicken, rice, gravy, sliced tomatoes, potato salad, fruit salad, potato chips, corn on cob, olives, hot rolls, ice tea and angel food and chocolate cake.

After dinner the beautiful display of fireworks and the other amusements of the Reunion Grounds were enjoyed, the evening concluding merrily with a final gathering at the camp before adjourn for the night.

Mrs. Huchingson, as usual was charming as hostess and gave to the club and its "better half" another most pleasing memory.

MAKERS OF MEXIA

The high standard of excellence maintained by the Mexia Daily News during the past three weeks, while I was attending the National Democratic convention, has been indeed gratifying to me and I am sure noticeable to and appreciated by the reading public. Although we love to be missed when we are gone and although each may attach considerable importance to his own relations and services, inspiration is felt by everyone who contemplates that there is someone some one fully able and competent to take his place and carry out whatever mission and ambition he may have in life. Major N. P. Houx, associate editor, stepping into the breach and assisted by other members of the loyal force in the News Publishing Company, worked day and night, with great sacrifice and success, in publishing a newspaper of which the city must be greatly pleased. Despite the fact that Major Houx has devoted many of the best years of an already long and useful life to Mexia and this community, the test of the past three weeks, and it was truly a gruelling test, indicates that he yet retains that vigor of physique and mind and tenacity of purpose, characteristic of him of old and essential in every well organized newspaper office where every man is inspired with a desire to serve rather than to be served.

Mexia is not a one man town and the Mexia Daily News is not a one man newspaper. It is the ambition of this newspaper, held constantly in mind and seated deep in the hearts of everyone connected with it, to be a real factor in building here a bigger and better Mexia. All its friends are likewise appreciated.

The coming Democratic primaries promise to be the most interesting of many held in many years in this part of Texas. The votes polled will likely exceed any ever cast in Limestone County. The public generally is becoming greatly interested in local county affairs and is wanting to know everything about where the money is going and why. Some of the candidates are freely "speaking out at meed," while others are as silent as Mr. Coolidge on the subject. The candidates will act wisely to speak out now, for there will come a time when the scrutinizing eye of the people will see every past official act.

FOURTH OF JULY IN MATAMOROS MEXICO

By JIMMIE PITTMAN

Mexico is called "The Land of Tomorrow," and justly so, for nowhere else can be found a more languid, easy going race. To them time does not mean money but rather a certain number of days that must pass before they are gathered in by their Maker.

The Peon class have no thought for the future. They will spend their last penny for a gayly colored handkerchief or for "Dukes" candy. Perhaps in the Tomorrow Mexico will wake from her prolonged sleep and develop her many natural resources and take her place with the other nations of the world.

July the Fourth was a gala day in H. Matamoros, Tamps. It was celebrated by a bull fight in the Plaza De Toros, by several Cock Fights in the Patio of the Moxetuma and in "El Moxetuma," El Jardin and other bars by our good American citizens trying to be bad.

One of the most interesting sights I saw while there was a well dressed young man about thirty years old, doing a cross between American Duck and Wing and the Hula Hula, using a hand carved Mexican walking stick as a tambouline and dancing to the tune of "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More," rendered in double quick time by an African orchestra.

I guess every American citizen has a desire to see a Bull fight, but few of us have the privilege of doing so.

The Arena at Matamoros is between seventy five and one hundred feet across with a wall about six feet high all around it, then about eight feet from this wall is another and higher one and directly back of this wall are the seats, rising to a height of about forty of fifty feet.

At the appointed time the Matadores, Toreadores, Banderillos, Picadores and the Picadores' helpers enter the Arena. The Picadores are the only ones that are mounted. The horses used are the very poorest specimens obtainable and a red bandanna handkerchief is tied over their right eye. The Picadores themselves are so padded from the hips down that they have absolutely no control over their legs and when thrown from their horses are completely at the mercy of the bull.

The Matadores and Banderillos are dressed in skin tight trousers of silk and satin with jackets to match, the whole suit being covered with all-over lace and spangles. Their stockings and slippers are pale pink, regardless of the color of their suits.

The gate to the Arena is opened and as the bull passes through the narrow run way to the ring, a dagger about eight inches long and gayly decorated with crepe paper is plunged to the hilt directly back of his shoulder. This infuriates the bull and he makes a charge for the first thing he sees, usually one of the horses. After one or two of the horses have been gored to death the rest are driven out and then the Toreadores get in some fancy work with their brightly colored mantles.

When the bulls are sufficiently infuriated or the Toreadores become tired—I could never decide which—the Banderillos come forward with he Banderillos. These are gayly colored sticks about two feet long decorated with crepe paper and with a sharp hook in one end. Going to the center of the ring the Banderillos induces the bull to charge when he plunges the Banderillo deep into the flesh on either side of his shoulders. Six of these are used.

Then the Matador gets out his red cloth and after playing with the bull for a few minutes induces him to charge against the sword, which is plunged into the bull's heart, starting just back of the shoulder blades.

When the bull falls an attendant rushes forward with a short, V shaped knife and severs the spinal cord. The fight is over. A pair of mules, also decorated with crepe paper are driven in and the bull dragged out. He is immediately skinned and taken to one of the various markets.

The bugle sounds and another bull enters the ring to meet his death. I saw one Matador knocked down and another thrown over the fence, but I was at a previous fight.

The Matadors were Jose Ramirez and Jose Flores, both men having fought in the arenas of Madrid and Mexico City.

The bulls were Malpaso bulls from the Malpaso Ranch in Zacatecas, Mexico and were raised especially for fighting. Four bulls are usually killed in each fight.

I was told that no Matador will fight a Bramah or a jersey bull, because they are the only cattle known to keep their eyes open when they charge. This may be may not be true.

I was fortunate in having Mr. George Brown of San Benito with me. His and other trips into the interior of Mexico, as he speaks Spanish, a native and is thoroughly acquainted with their habits and customs and I was in this way able to learn more regarding our neighbors than would have otherwise been possible.

We ended the day by seeing a cock fight and getting one more drink, after which we were able to see bulls, dogs and men all in one grand and glorious battle.

It was sure some Fourth.

Most Appropriate Memorial, Declares Herbert Hoover, as $1,000,000 Appeal Begins for Walter Hines Page School

HERBERT L. GUTTERERSON. HERBERT HOOVER. EDGAR RICHARD.

The support of the nation is sought by the trustees who will establish the $1,000,000 fund to be raised in connection with the proposed Walter Hines Page School of International Relations. The school will be founded at Johns Hopkins University.

"Walter Hines Page was a humanitarian above all else," declared Herbert Hoover, in voicing his approval of the project. "His interest was in his people. He labored for the happiness of others, and in the most practical ways. He believed that they must have education, health, and enough means to rise above the wholly material thoughts of life. For the opportunity of all men to know and have these things he worked unceasingly. Then he believed in democracy; an equal share and an equal duty in the common life. And he believed in international good-will. He worked all his life for these ideals, and he died for them."

"The most appropriate memorial to him is an educational institution, because it too will work, and will further the things he worked for. The proposal of a school of international affairs, to be named for him, is just such an appropriate memorial."

Edgar Richard, director-general of the American Relief Administration, and Herbert L. Guttererson are members of the control committee of the proposed school, which aims to eliminate international strife and establish good-will and understanding among the nations of the world.

From headquarters of the organization, 111 Broadway, New York, the trustees, among whom are numbered thirty nationally known educators, statesmen, publishers and businessmen, have issued an appeal, which reads in part as follows:

"The proposed Walter Hines Page School of International Relations will offer unique facilities for the post-graduate training of men competent to consider international problems from a statesman's high viewpoint, and to understand the art of diplomacy with the most comprehensive grasp of its true essentials. No such school or college exists. . . . The place for this living memorial should be at Johns Hopkins University. Mr. Page became a fellow at Johns Hopkins in the first years of the existence of this unique post-graduate institution with which were many of his associations. . . . Furthermore, Johns Hopkins, as the pioneer post-graduate and research university, has the experience and allied departments necessary for the most advantageous development of the school. Its location, within an hour from Washington, thus being accessible to the Library of Congress, the State Department, and all the other agencies of Government information, provides an ideal site. . . . The fund required to found the school is $1,000,000. The capital sum will yield an income sufficient to provide for professorships, fellowships and library which are essential. . . . We ask the general public support in the erection of this post-graduate school in the form of contributions to the capital sum. . . . The creation of such a living institution will not only be an investment enriching those contributions, which we, as Americans, can make for the progress of civilization, but it will preserve for the youth of our country the example and influence of a noble American."

Contributions may be sent to the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations, 111 Broadway, New York City.

Karner-Phillips July Clearing Sale has hit the spot of popular demand—we named exceedingly low prices—people came expecting low prices—and they got low prices.

July to us is a month of clearing the stocks. We naturally accumulate odd lots and surplus merchandise, and as it is our policy to not carry merchandise over into another season, we make drastic price reductions in our July Clearance in order to effect an immediate and complete clearance.

Our entire line of Ladies, Men's and Children's Shoes, all Ladies' Ready-to-wear—White Goods, and Men's and Boys' Clothing and Hats, all are included in this sweeping Clearance at decided price reductions.

The Talk of The Town

These ladies and big misses slippers we are selling at the low price of $3.65, are the talk of the town. They say how do you do it? how can you afford to sell these high grade shoes that sold regular at $7.50 to $10 for this low price of $3.65. The fact is we are doing it—and the reason is just as we have stated before—this has been a season of many and varied styles in ladies footwear—we carried more styles than usual—consequently we have more odd lots on hand than usual. Our object in naming this low price on slippers that sold at $7.50 to $10 the pair, is simply this—we must close out these odd lots—regardless of cost—and we are doing it—just come in and see for yourself the wonderful values we are giving at this price of $3.65.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.—Acts. 10:34-35.

Henry Morgenthau of New York who was one of Woodrow Wilson's closest friends and supporters is convinced that the democratic party can elect the next president if it nominates the right candidate. Millionaire Morgenthau declined to name the right candidate. He is said to have a very high opinion of John W. Davis of West Virginia and New York.

THE INSIDE STORY

The series of articles now appearing in The Mexia Daily News, by A. Garland Adair, and dealing with various aspects of the National Democratic Convention, will unravel the amazing story of conditions in the country that menace the life of the party of the people from within and from without. Mr. Adair is giving careful thought to every utterance and is prepared to back up every statement made with proof gleaned personally while in attendance upon the convention just closed in Madison Square Garden. He agrees with a McAdoo speaker from South Carolina that he learned some things about the party which he regrets exist. With loyalty to the party and anxious to render Democrats of this territory a real service, by giving them the truthful story of the convention, so that they may investigate and draw their own conclusions, The News is carrying this series of articles and commends them to the attention of all citizens of this section and other sections as well. They are written with the touch of local color, enhancing their interest to Texans and are further given in the hopes that they will form educational documents helpful to loyal Democrats and patriotic American citizens of all political faiths, regardless of race or creed. Watch for "Here's How It Happened. The Inside Story of the Democratic National Convention of 1924."

The first of the series appeared Friday and dealt with the fight of the wets against Mr. William Gibbs McAdoo. If you do not have a copy of the issue of that date, you may secure one by calling at the office of The Mexia Daily News.

LABOR'S VIEW ON UNIVERSAL CONSCRIPTION

The proposal that the government conscript wealth and labor at home, as well as men for the ranks, during war, would naturally seem to be one which would appeal to the ranks of labor. The statement made by Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, shows that labor sees both sides of the question and considers what would be best for the nation as well as what might be good for labor. He says:

"In theory, universal conscription in time of war is correct. It is right that the Government should take wealth as well as men. But I am unwilling at this time to be dogmatic one way or the other. I realize that not every theory can be applied in this world of human fallibility."

"I should like to be certain the universal conscription will go away with profiteering, and that it will not be a means of destroying our economic life and ruining our standards of life and work after war."

"In theory, universal conscription is just. We do not want another war. But if defense of great principles requires such a sacrifice, I believe our people will respond as they always have responded. We want to be sure that in preventing injustice and profiteering we do not build up something worse, something perhaps more hampering."

"I should like to see a commission, composed of men from all walks of life, representing all forms of human effort, give study to this great question. We want no more war, but if we must have war, we want to be as effective as possible and we do not want abuses and profiteering at home. What are the measures to be taken? We cannot determine that question according to emotional desires, probably not according to abstract principles and probably not according to any pre-arranged formula."

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE LATE CONVENTION

However much we may dislike to admit it, there are many Texas people who now see the wisdom of sending the 40 Texas votes uncommitted to the Democratic Journal.

We still maintain that not only would the party have been saved but victory in November assured had the convention resolved at the outset to give the nomination to the stalwart and distinguished West Virginian who finally landed the plum—Democrat.

The Democratic convention in New York had all the thrills that any delegate could have desired. The reading public become about as tired of the proceedings as did the delegates, who had to foot the hotel bills in the great city. Such is the political life—West News.

We have always believed that legislatures were the past grand masters of the noble art of killing time, but the democratic national convention beats them all.—Riesel Ruelter.

It is to be suspected that no woman since Eve tempted her mate in the Garden of Eden, has ever felt that she had the destiny of a land depending upon her shoulders quite so much as did Miss Marion Cooley of Washington, Georgia, when it was disclosed Sunday night in Madison Square Garden that upon her vote depended the question of singling out the Ku Klux Klan by name in the Democratic platform. It is said that, flustered and frightened, surrounded by threatening and pleading men, and tugging at her arms trying to hoist her to her feet when she was too frightened to rise, she at last gasped out "no," and sank to her seat. Sunday, Miss Cooley was the most talked of, the most interviewed woman in New York. She declared to all of the newspaper men that she changed her vote from "aye" to "no," not for the Klan, but for party success, and that the men about her declared she was "stabbing Mr. McAdoo in the back."—Fairfield Recorder.

Tom Taggart says he has quit politics for good. Several other bosses in the convention will not find it necessary to quit. Politics has quit them.—Houston Post.

ALABAMA BOUND,

Here we are in Memphis, Tennessee, the day has been fine and everything has gone well with us. Today we saw the rice fields for over thirty miles and just rice.

The roads were fine except we found lots of dust. We experienced the high tressels, high bridges and low ferries today. There is a thrill to this that you don't get elsewhere.

Tonight (July 9th) we are camped in the Overton park, and here they have the prettiest drives to be found in this part of the country along with the zoo and many other attractions. Tomorrow we expect to make our final lap and stop in Florence, Ala.

We expect to visit Muscle Shoals and make some pictures while there. Some of these you will see later.

Yours truly,
A. M. WESSON.

GOVERNMENT IS IN CONTROL OF SOA PAULO REVOLT

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 10—

"The government has complete control of the situation," a brief communique on the revolt in Sao Paulo said tonight.

It was indicated, however, that the remaining rebel strongholds have not yet been reduced although they are surrounded by loyal forces.

A number of prisoners arrived here today from Santos. Apparently the rebels are in two groups, in the Lus military barracks, near the big Luz railway station and the Santa Ana barracks, about five miles away.

A rigid censorship continues and an estimate of the total dead and wounded is impossible. It is probable figures never will be given out.

Late official communications confirm reports that the revolt was not purely military, but has a political aspect. The names of the political leaders involved however, are not mentioned in official communiques.

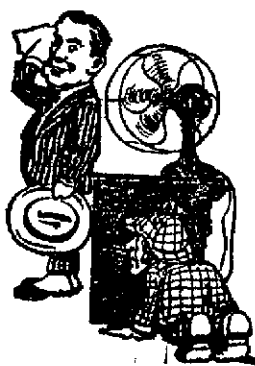

Government forces are in complete control of Santos and apparently there has not been any fighting there at any time. Government forces have been using Santos as a base of operations ever since the fighting started and is transferring all prisoners to that city, from which they are brought to Rio de Janeiro on naval transports.

The Senate and the Chamber of Deputies today adopted resolutions declaring their complete support of the Federal Government, President

MANY FROM SIXTH DISTRICT AND MEXIA ATTEND NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION N. Y.

Quite a number from this Congressional District attended the National Democratic Convention at New York, at least for a part of the prolonged session. A. Garland Adair, of The Mexia Daily News, was asked by Judge W. C. Davis of Bryan to go to New York and be prepared to serve on his stand as delegate from this district, in case the condition of his wife was such that he would not be permitted to attend. Later, it developed that Mrs. Davis was out of danger after undergoing two operations in a Sanatorium at Galveston and Judge Davis arrived in New York on the day the convention opened. Mr. Adair had been, in the meantime, tendered the proxies of attorneys H. O. Titum of Wortham and Wayne Howell of Corsicana. Later during the convention, Delegate Colonel Jackson of Hillsboro had to return home and Mr. Adair was accorded his seat with the delegation. Also, when Hon. Alva Bryan of Waco had to return to Texas on account of a physical breakdown, following his travelling experience on the platform committee from Texas, he tendered his proxy and power of attorney for the convention over to the Mexia newspaper man, with the instruction to use it for the good of the Democratic party and America.

Following the adjournment of the 17th convention of Rotarians, Albert B. Berry of this city reached New York and was given one of the alternate delegates' badges from the district. Thus he was entitled to serve with the delegation until he left. With him was Hon. Luther Johnson of Corsicana, Congressman from this district, who spent several days in attendance upon the session. In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Landrum of this city arrived with the Arkansas delegation and the Texans in this district added them in securing convention tickets. They attended every session while in New York and found the convention hard to leave. Mrs. Sterling D. Proctor of Teague reached New York early during convention week. She is a daughter of Hon. W. R. Boyd of Teague, Limestone county, Sixth Congressional District. She was on a visit with her sister, Mrs. W. R. Boyd, Jr., of New York City. So interesting was the convention to her that she found her seat in Madison Square Garden during the early periods of each session, none of which she missed.

Near the close of the convention and after Mr. and Mrs. Landrum, Albert Berry and Colonel Jackson of Hillsboro, formerly of Limestone county and others had returned, Lowry Martin, business manager of the Limestone Sun and Mrs. Martin, sister of Mr. Roscoe Cook of this city, reached New York. Mr. Martin was in time to witness the clash on the convention floor over naming the Klan in a denunciatory plank in the platform. He was seated with the Texas delegates, with Hon. Cato Bell. They talked about the Lowry Star Campaign and J. K. Hughes more than they listened to the proceedings of the convention prior to the platform fight. Cato Bell is Chairman of the prospective Centennial and Mr. Martin is Secretary.

Each delegate was allotted his own ticket and one for a guest. By securing all the alternates badges and admission books, those from this district were easily taken care of, however, many delegations from other districts and other states were too generous with their tickets at the outset and failed to take care of all who wanted to attend the convention from their home vicinities.

It is safe to say that outside of the big cities of Texas, such as Dallas, Houston and San Antonio, Mexia, Limestone county and the Sixth District were the best represented of all units of the Lone Star State at the memorable convention.

The last few days of the convention found Judge C. S. Bradley present, eagerly watching the proceedings and listening to every utterance of the official program conducted.

In all those present from this district were:
Judge W. C. Davis, Bryan.
Colonel Will Jackson, Hillsboro.
Albert Berry, Mexia.
Mrs. W. B. Landrum, Mexia.
Lowry Martin, Corsicana.
Mrs. Lowry Martin, Corsicana.
Hon. Luther Johnson, Corsicana.
A. Garland Adair, Mexia.
Mets. Sterling D. Proctor, Teague.
Judge C. S. Bradley, Groesbeck.

FRIENDS IN EAST BOYS GO TO CAMP

Mrs. Sterling D. Proctor of Teague is on a visit with her brother, W. R. Proctor, Jr., in New York City. She was accompanied East by her son whom she placed in a Summer Training Camp in the Lake Region of the North. W. R. Boyd, Jr., III, is also attending the Summer Camp. Mr. Boyd, formerly of this part of Texas, son of W. R. Boyd of Teague is with the National Petroleum Institute and maintains headquarters in New York.

W. B. Landrum returned Saturday from an extended visit in Arkansas and the East where he and Mrs. Landrum attended the National Convention of the Democratic party. He admits that the stories about the delegates and visitors to New York became on the verge of financial collapse had more truth than poetry in them.

More Land Available If River Straightened

EL PASO, Texas, July 12.—There will be two thousand acres more land available for cultivation in the El Paso valley if the river is straightened according to present plans.

This land, which is at present too close to the river to be properly drained by deep channels, could be reclaimed by the Elephant Butte irrigation project, and would be very rich, because of silt deposits from the river.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor K. Aubrey and baby were Waco visitors Saturday.

Rev. Victor K. Aubrey, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, was a Dallas visitor Thursday, completing arrangements for the Bible School to open soon in his church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Boyd and Walter Kline, Jr., left Saturday in their car for Terrell where they will spend the next few days on a visit with her relatives.

ANNUAL REUNION JOE JOHNSTON
CAMP CONFEDERATE VETERANS
JACKS CREEK JULY 15 TO 18

The thirty-sixth annual reunion of Joe Johnston Camp No. 94, Confederate Veterans, will be held at the Reunion grounds for four days next week—Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 15-18.

The following data is taken from the official program, just issued from the Daily News job department, and will be of interest to all who are arranging to attend this big annual event:

Hearty Welcome

The remaining few of the Joe Johnston Camp welcome you to their "Confederate Park." We feel we could have builded no more fitting monument to those who wore the Gray, than is this plot of ground.

We believe its beauty is really in its incipency, and that the Sons and Daughters of this camp will feel it is theirs to "carry on" after our efforts have ceased, and that this may be known far and wide as one of the beauty spots of Texas, as well as a perpetual memorial to the Confederate Soldiers.

Tuesday night.
8:30—Band concert at pavilion by Mexia Elks Band.

Business Meeting of Camp
Wednesday at 10 a. m. roll call. Transacting of all business pertaining to the camp.

11 a. m. Address by Congressman Luther Johnson.

12 a. m. Dinner served to old "Confederates" by Sons and Daughters, at the Polo club house. Music by Mexia Elks Band.

8:30 p. m. Concert at pavilion by Mexia Elks Band.

Historical.
The Joseph E. Johnston Camp No. 94 met Sunday, March 1, to set the date of the Reunion and to attend to any other business that might come before it.

The following resolution was read and adopted:

About thirty-eight years ago a number of Confederates met at Jacks Creek and organized a camp of Confederate Veterans and named it the Joseph E. Johnston. They located the annual meetings at the present reunion grounds. They afterward bought twenty acres and laid it off in street and lots for camping purposes, and they have met every year from that time until this, each year improving and adding to the grounds as they became able. They bought additional lands until they now own some two acres deeded to the Confederates and their descendants. It is laid off in lots and streets and improved in every way with sewerage system, light plants, and the grounds blooming with beautiful flowers. There are concrete walks, and a macadamized road from the grounds to Mexia. We are indebted to the big-hearted Colonel A. I. Humphreys, in assisting us in the undertaking, and we are a small but the Pure Oil Company that the wind and sun do not blow until it is hot and sunny the ground.

We had three feet in view when we started. But to prepare a place for the old soldiers to meet and enjoy themselves—second, to educate the younger generation in the uses of the war, and third, to monument the heroic deeds of the 100,000 men who bled for the great old South.

Mrs. Tom has many friends in Mexia among the old timers, as she was very active in civic and social affairs, and they will all join in hoping that she will be elected.

Speaking of her announcement, the Gonzales Inquirer says:

The first woman in Gonzales county to announce for office, other than a county office, is Mrs. Chas. F. Tom, whose name was posted in the announcement column today as a candidate for the legislature from this county. Mrs. Tom has been a resident of Gonzales for several years and during that time has shown herself as actively interested in the various women's movements for the betterment of conditions generally being an ardent member of the W. Here's How it Happened

The Inside Story of the National Democratic Convention.

By A. GARLAND ADAIR
Managing Editor of The Mexia Daily News

Upon the arrival of the Texas-McAdoo Special in New York City Sunday morning prior to the opening of the Democratic Convention on Tuesday, they found many delegates on the ground already, and workers busy and prominent in their endeavor to rally support to favorite sons for President from about twenty states.

The New York newspapers gave appearance of having already been bought and paid for by the Al Smith ring and the first impression the newspapers tried to create was that there was no other candidate that had a ghost of a show. Every day after that for two weeks, the headlines generally were to the effect that "Al Smith Continues Gaining Votes," "Al Smith Breaks the Solid South," "Al Smith to Sweep Convention Into Line." And these newspapers really had the New Yorkers thinking that they would surely witness his triumph as the choice of the convention. They could not conceive of anything else happening in view of what they had read in the newspapers and what they saw for themselves in the voteless galleries of the Madison Square Garden.

New York was very courteous at first and until convention developments began to show that America was bigger than New York, many went far out of their way to show their hospitality. It was noticeable at the outset that a vast majority of the reception committees for the various states, appointed by Mayor Hylan, were dyed in the wool Al Smith campaigners.

With the newspapers and with the reception committees favorable to the favorite son of New York City and New York State, and bitterly opposed to Mr. McAdoo, Texans early realized that they were in the camps of the enemy.

Opponents of Mr. McAdoo even went to the extreme expense of publishing a convention newspaper and distributing it freely to the delegates daily throughout the siege. This was called The New York Bulletin and it was freely declared to be the mouthpiece of the Vatican. It was born a day or two before the convention opened. Whether it is to continue to exist cannot be said. It can truly be said that The Bulletin did more to defeat the cause it espoused than any other single factor. It was so intolerantly bigoted and so radically Al Smith, so provincial and narrow in its editorial and news policies; so venomous toward the South and so bitter toward the Ku Klux Klan that its influence was soon narrowed to the ones who were violently in sympathy with its campaign of vituperation, effort, falsehood, and super intolerance. All way through, the delegations from the South, including McAdoo, were proclaimed to be representatives of "poor white trash" and "descendants of carpet baggers."

The best articles that appeared in any newspapers in New York were those written daily in The American by William Jennings Bryan. He wrote with fairness and in the spirit of justice, truth and party loyalty.

Tuesday, the convention opened in the arena where many titular pugilists have been staged in the past.

The beautifully decorated historic hall, the sky of banners, the hair trigger exclamations of the hosts of partisan crowds, the calm smile of confidence on the face of Democrats ready to give battle for the cause of Democracy, all the evidences of the proverbial spirit of great party conventions was there from the moment National Chairman Cordell Hull hammered with his gavel to the thunders of the plaudits of welcome to the time when Pitt Harrison closed his keynote address with a magnificent tribute to Woodrow Wilson.

The meeting itself was impressive, enthusiastic and exciting, attaining the proportions almost in these respects, to the one in San Francisco in 1920, during the life and administration of Wilson, when the gladiators of the party assembled in their victorious convention by the waters of the Pacific.

There were two aspects to the situation, the visible and the visible or the audible and inaudible. The visible and audible have been referred to above. The invisible and the inaudible, at the opening session, was in the air of expectancy, of exasperation, the atmosphere of hostility which never did clear up, the threatening attitude, later which broke forth with threats of injury and reprisal growing out of the bitterness of the fight for the nomination.

The delegates had had difficulty in getting two tickets each for the session. They looked at the galleries and discovered that at least 10,000 citizens of New York were there and how they got tickets none but the Smith campaign managers ever learned. There were only about 1200 delegates but someone had counterfeited about 600 badges, according to the discoverers later made and announced by the authorized delegates. These of course went to the Al Smith crowd. Of course, the wearer was not entitled to a vote but he could and did lift a voice whenever the opportunities presented and there were many of them. On top of this, grafters lined the streets and sold tickets at so much a piece and thus entered the sanctuary of the Democratic party. The police were superb looking but just how many of them stood in with these ticket scalpers and how much they got out of it will never be known, even though Walsh should be made chairman of the probers. It became generally known before the close of the convention that anyone wearing a Smith button who would indicate his or her hopes for his nomination they could get by a full squad of police on every corner and at every door. It was the pass word to the hall. In the meantime, there were many who had traveled almost across the continent who were not privileged to enter the convention hall and who refused to give the pass word.

The keynote address has been read all over the United States as well as the resolutions of respect to Woodrow Wilson which were passed at the first and opening session.

The geographical location of the convention, and the contrast provided by the deep Southern nativity of the keynote, were quite impressive. Chairman Harrison began with a rush that won prompt attention. He aroused great enthusiasm as he proceeded, denouncing pampered privilege and analyzing, with furious invective and statistics, the hidden iniquities of the Mellon tax plan. The speech, like a slice of prime bacon, showed the appropriate proportion of fat and lean. He talked about the golden apples of special privilege that have been gathered by the favored few of the Republican party, referring to them as petted and pampered puppets.

He said there was not to be harmony but nevertheless pleaded for it. This part of his address indicated that he was not speaking what was in the mind of the alcoholic interests of the party.

In this connection, he wisely said: "Nothing must happen here to divide our council or dampen our ardor. The fires of Democracy must not flicker. The hope of the people raises in the action of this convention. There must be no skulking; there can be no mutiny. Winning is not wicked; strategy is no sin. Far better is it for the American people and the future of the Democratic Party that in this convention we deny to ourselves some vaunted expression or surrender some temporary advantage, that we may succeed in this campaign, than remissly to persist and lose."

If a man doesn't think right it is impossible for him to act right.

WACO HELPLESS BEFORE JEFFRIES

Gushers Get to Schmid and Pound Out 8-0 Victory.

Waco was helpless before Jeffries, while Schmid was no puzzle to the Gushers, Mexia scoring an easy shut-out, 8-0. Waco had but one man left on bases. The Gushers' infield played brilliantly, not a Waco player reaching second base.

MEXIA, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 13, 1924

MEXIA OFFERS THIS SECTION SUPERB SCHOOL FACILITIES

LA FOLLETT REJECTS BRYAN AS RUNNING MATE

CITY ORDINANCE TO PROTECT PEOPLE AGAINST MAD DOGS

JULY IS MONTH IN WHICH TO TRANSFER PUPILS

The Mexia School Board is doing its utmost now to call attention to the surrounding school districts to the superb facilities for education offered them by the Mexia High School and the entire Mexia Public School system.

Notice is being given now that parents who desire to send their pupils here may transfer them at once to the Mexia Schools and thus secure for their children the advantages of facilities unsurpassed elsewhere in Texas and the influence and aid of as splendid a faculty of school officials and teachers as can be found in the State.

It is pointed out that the month of July is the period prescribed by law in which to make transfers legal and official, and compliance is urged upon every parent or pupil who wishes to take full advantage of the approaching session of 1924-25. July the 31st is the last day in which this can be done but in order to avoid the rush, transfers are encouraged any day from now until then.

The notice states: "All parties who wish to transfer their children from other districts to Mexia Independent School District, will please see J. D. Arrington at the City Hall. All transfers must be made in the month of July."

This statement is signed by David Murphy, Secretary of the School Board.

There were about 100 transfers in 1923-24. These transfers came from several surrounding school districts and thereby the Mexia district was enabled to extend its services to many homes outside the corporate limits of the city of Mexia and beyond the borders of the district proper.

More than that number are expected to be recorded and enrolled this next session, which now gives promise of being the best school period ever known to Mexia.

It is pointed out that when transfers are made, the tuition provided by the state fund follows the student. Thus, the Mexia District is enabled to extend to those who transfer the advantages of a full nine months' period for the price of three months, since the school funds of the state provide only for three months, whereas state aid and local school funds enable the session to extend through a nine months period.

The attention of residents of all surrounding districts and to every farmer in the territory contiguous to Mexia that they may secure for their children the advantages of a high school here, closely approximating the advantage of a Junior College and that at no more expense to them than attendance upon the regular term rural schools involves.

Welcome to Mexia Schools!

PISTOL FIGHT IS FATAL TO TWO TEXARKANA CITIZENS

TEXARKANA, Texas, July 12.—David Read is dead and John Martin is probably fatally wounded as the result of a pistol duel near here last night. According to reports Read and wife were met by Martin who called Read to task for alleged mistreatment of Mrs. Read, who is Martin's sister, and a quarrel followed. Martin fell with a bullet hole through his neck but he shot Read through the heart.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Box left today to spend their vacation in New Mexico. While away they will visit Old Mexico also.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Propp announced the birth of a baby girl July 9th, weighing 7½ pounds.

MCADOO ACCORDS CORDIAL AID TO DAVIS

NEW YORK, July 12.—John W. Davis will fit the needs of the progressive Democratic Party and will have the support of William Gibbs McAdoo, the Californian announced before sailing to Europe today.

McAdoo pledged himself to work for the Davis-Bryan combination when he returns from his trip abroad early in September.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo, their daughter, his secretary and political secretary, Brice Claggett sailed on the Berengaria.

The statement given out by McAdoo follows:

"Mr. Davis and I have been friends for the past twelve years and I had the pleasure of discussing the political situation with him yesterday. The great body of progressive Democrats who supported me strongly in the convention have been anxious to know my attitude towards Mr. Davis' candidacy, and my visit was for the purpose of leaving from Mr. Davis direct on the views on the important issues before the country. I am satisfied that he is in full accord with the Democratic platform."

"Mr. Davis' professional connections and association with great banking houses and corporate interests, although concededly ethical in every way, have raised doubts in the minds of many as to his progressivism and as to his complete sympathy with the great reforms the Democratic party must execute if it is to serve the genuine interests of the people. These doubts are not justified, because a lawyer's views on economic, political and social questions are no more to be judged by his professional associations than is a physician's to be judged by the character of his patients. Mr. Davis' high character, integrity and service should satisfy any apprehension of this sort. I am confident that, as President, he would faithfully execute the party's progressive mandate. If I did not believe this, I could not render aid, because I have always believed that the interests of the people should never be subordinated to a merely slavish partnership."

"There is a deep seated determination on the part of the progressive forces within the Democratic party and those outside of it desiring to cooperate to force prompt and decisive action on the part of the next administration for solution of the pressing problems of agriculture, transportation, tariff, taxation and foreign relations which have been so horribly manhandled by the Republican administration. The influence and power of these progressive forces must not be dissipated by division of various political movements, they must rather be consolidated and used like an irresistible battering ram on that party which offers the best instrumentality for service to the people. Clearly there is no promise in the Republican party. Clearly there is a promise in the Democratic party if this progressive influence is wisely and vigorously used within that political organization. The hope of genuine reform and progressivism is more likely to be realized at this time through the Democratic party than through any of its opponents."

"I shall therefore give the Davis-Bryan ticket my cordial support and shall take part in the campaign up to my return early in September."

POPE PIUS QUIET AS TO ANNULMENT OF GOULD WEDDING

ROME, July 12.—Statements that Pope Pius has ratified annulment of marriage of the former Anna Gould to Count Boni De Castellane, are premature as yet and no official announcement has been made, the United Press was informed from reliable Vatican sources today.

The only basis for such statements, apparently, is a report being circulated here that the commission of three Cardinals appointed by the Holy Father to investigate the case has voted for the annulment. This report comes from sources not usually considered reliable.

Cardinal Sidi, president of the cardinals commission, is out of Rome at present and can not be reached.

Attorney Ferrara and Saccata, who represented the interested parties before the commission state the case has been disposed of, but that the divorce remains secret.

Anna Gould is now the Duchess Talleyrand, having married the Duke after her civil divorce. De Castellane applied for a papal annulment soon after the civil divorce decree but failed.

HALF A HUNDRED CITIZENS BITTEN IN RECENT WEEKS

The Commissioners of the City of Mexia at a session Saturday afternoon, heard a report regarding mad dogs in Mexia and promptly passed an ordinance requiring all dogs to wear a license tag before permitted to run at large, and that license should be issued only when the dog is properly vaccinated against rabies.

Mayor Ernest Watson and Commissioners Rex Forrest and W. C. Wilson heard a report by Dr. W. R. Hodges of the City Sanitary Department, in which it was pointed out that during the past few months 26 people have been sent from here to Austin because of mad dog bites and that at present one family of five is there. In addition to this big number, fully that many more have been treated in the Brown Hospital and by local physicians here. Thus a half a hundred or more have actually suffered and had their lives threatened in recent months by dogs affected and thought to be affected by rabies.

It is believed that the ordinance will prove effective in reducing the danger which is so prevalent at this season of the year and which may prove menacing if something is not done immediately. From reports issued by the State Health department there has been in 1924 a real mad dog epidemic which has sent a constant stream of patients for treatment to the Pasteur Institute at Austin and prompt and adequate precautions are urged everywhere.

Article Six of the new ordinance states that the fact that there is no ordinance regulating the licensing and vaccination of dogs creates an imperative public necessity that the rules requiring ordinances to be read on more than one day be and the same is hereby suspended and that this ordinance take effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

The Chief of Police, Albert Mace, will be given authority at once to kill every dog which is not wearing a license tag unless confined in an enclosure. Any dog wearing the tag attached, as specified, will not be molested.

It has been pointed out that anyone suffering from mad dog bites or who thinks he has been bitten by a dog infected with rabies may receive as good and as safe treatment at the Brown Hospital as he would find in the State Capital and also the physicians of Mexia are as capable in treating the trouble as may be found anywhere and at much less expense.

Family Narrowly Escape Flames

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 12.—Fleeing in their night clothing, W. A. Strouse and Elrod Bond and their wives narrowly escaped burning to death early this morning when their five-room cottage was discovered to be afire. The house was destroyed. Officers found two stills and the remains of 125 gallons of mash among the ruins. A small quantity of whiskey was found.

Strouse and Bond, who said they were soldiers attached to the 15th Field Artillery, were arrested and held for Federal officers.

HOUSTON WITNESSES STRIKE THREATNING BUILDING PROGRAM

HOUSTON, Texas, July 12.—Nine building crafts struck this morning on the construction work of the new Jefferson Davis hospital because of the refusal of the construction company to abide by the decision of the board of jurisdiction awards over whether carpenters or sheet metal workers should hang the metal doors. Indications are that the strike may spread and tie up the $5,000,000 building program here.

SPLAWN NOT YET OFFICIALLY MADE UNIVERSITY HEAD

Before leaving New York, and while the National Democratic Convention was in session, many delegates discussed with Luther Stark, President of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, the report reaching New York that Dr. Walter Splawn had been elected head of the University. Mr. Stark declared that he knew nothing of the affair except that which had been reported to him as having been published in Texas newspapers. He said that he and Regent Story of Dallas had been and were still present at the national convention and that they had not discussed the matter. He said that they had, however, talked of an early meeting of the Regents soon after their return to Texas. Mr. Stark was serving as a delegate from his district and Mr. Story was there in the interest of the Campaign for the Vice Presidency of his law partner, Alvin Owsley.

In speaking of Mr. Splawn, he stated that he was sure that he would make a splendid President, but confined his statement almost solely to that. Quite a number of delegates urged that he was by odds the best man for the place, each extolling the virtues which he recognized in the man, stating that he had more than made good at every task imposed upon him. To this, Mr. Stark fully agreed. The only fault found by anyone discussing the subject was that the present Railroad Commissioner lacked that force of personality found in some men, but it was agreed that he was constantly improving in this respect and that he would bring to the office of the Presidency an executive brain which would be instrumental in developing the University into one of the biggest institutions in America.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dunaway are leaving for San Antonio, Corpus Christi and other gulf cities on their honeymoon. They will be accompanied by Dr. Hinchliff and wife and will be gone about two weeks.

JEFFRIES WINS SATURDAY'S GAME WITH INDIANS

By HECK.

Too much Jeffries was again the cry of the Waco Indians at the ball yard Saturday afternoon when their war cry was changed to a weeping, wailing and moan of distress. It was a great ball game all the way with the Gushers drawing first blood in the second frame when Seely opened the round with a single to center and was out trying to make it a double and the hit took the reverse English and did not go on to the fence. Ted Jones socked a double to right that Caffey said a prayer over before returning it to the infield. Fred Naylor then whammed the pellet far over the left field fence counting himself and Ted. The Indians tallied in the third on William's single, Ragan's bunt and Kelley's hit to center. In the sixth the Indians scored two on successive homers by Caffey and Hall and the six-bit sports yelled with glee and at that it did look like a lot of runs as Speck Ragan was going fine. The Gushers knotted the count in the eighth when the Squibber, led off with a single to center. Fowkes sacrificed. Strickland threw out Butler on a great play. Seely came thru with a hard drive that Shires made a great play for and knocked down but Ned out legged him to first while Squibb tallied the necessary run to tie things up. Jeffries took the hill in the eighth and the Indians as usual were absolutely helpless. Both clubs were held in the ninth and the Indians were helpless in the tenth. The Gushers opened the final round with Jeffries hitting a drive that looked good for a home-run and Caffey, the Indian right fielder, also had a hunch that the ball was going for a long ride and gave it up. However the drive hit about six inches from the top of the fence and Jeff was perched on third.

PREMIER OF EGYPT SHOT WHILE WAITING IN AT RY. STATION

CAIRO, Egypt, July 12.—Zaghal Pasha, Premier of Egypt, was shot and dangerously wounded in a crowded railway station here this morning, as he was about to enter a train for Alexandria.

The Premier was bidding good bye to friends when an unknown man, who had wormed his way through the crowd, suddenly drew a small automatic pistol and opened fire.

There was great excitement for a time and when police arrived the Premier was lying on the station floor with a bullet in his right lung. He was taken to his home where physicians made a hasty examination and declared the Premier's condition is "satisfactory."

The man who fired the shot was set upon by the crowd and badly beaten before he was rescued by police and taken to jail. His name could not be learned during the early excitement nor was there any apparent reason for his act.

There was tremendous excitement throughout the city as it was at first reported the Premier had been killed.

MARBERRY PITCHING GREAT BALL IN EAST

Fred Marberry, who won his spurs with the Mexia Gushers as a Major League pitching possibility in 1922, now with Washington, pitched a game against New York during the National Convention of the Democratic party, opposing veterans of the world's series winning staff. He was given front page headlines in New York papers because of his stellar work, even during the convention when the activities of Madison Square Garden claimed front page space generally.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—

There will be no political partnership between La Follette and Governor Charles Bryan, was definitely announced by La Follette aides. La Follette will not approve of Bryan as his running mate because he is unwilling to have any affiliation with either of the old parties.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—La Follette leaders today were the proud parents of a brand new political idea. They call it the "poor man's campaign fund."

Birth of this strapping youngster was announced unofficially as executive heads of the progressive national committee went into closed session here in their first important meeting.

"The 'poor man's campaign fund' its originators say, will solve without trouble the difficult problem of financing an independent candidacy. It will 'prove at once popular and practical'."

Large contributions will be barred. Millionaires, even if they see fit, will not be allowed to assist La Follette toward the presidential chair. His candidacy, in the interest of the plain people, will be financed by the plain people.

A finance sub-committee of six members has been working out this plan for small and widely distributed gifts since the Cleveland conference and today they were to report. They will not attempt to raise a large fund.

"Our organization has accomplished great things with little money in the past and we expect to do as well in the future," one spokesman said. "The American people are not corrupt. All we need is enough money to broadcast the truth."

Senator La Follette yesterday was approached by the organized railway men. He conferred with representatives of practically all the brotherhoods regarding the political situation and although a definite allegiance was not pledged, progressive leaders expressed themselves as pleased with the result of the visit.

"Fighting Bob" has decided that he will not confine his campaigning to the radio but will make a number of speeches in carrying his issues to the country. He will not leave Washington for the West for at least three weeks, however.

KANSAS BANKING CONDITIONS ARE NOW IMPROVING

TOPEKA, Kans., July 12.—Banking conditions in Kansas are showing great improvement already as a result of the bumper wheat crop harvest this year.

The value of the crop is at least $23,000,000 more than 1922, and the actual cash value probably will be in excess of that figure.

A. R. Wallace, president of the Kansas State Bankers Association, said the wheat crop has already resulted in liquidation of many debts, which caused failure of a large number of banks in the State.

"Bankers and business men are feeling the beneficial effects of the good crop and it will mean a lot to them," Wallace said.

Wallace's only fear was that the State's good crop would get too much publicity and "the speculators will start beating down the prices." Kansas farmers were skeptical about claiming a bumper yield before the grain had actually been cut, but most of the State's crop has now been harvested.

PRESBYTERIANS OPEN VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

STRONG FACULTY SECURED FOR SYSTEMATIC STUDIES

Daily Vacation Bible School begins Monday, 8:30 at Central Presbyterian Church. A faculty of capable teachers has been secured. Among these teachers are people especially equipped to teach their particular work. Sewing, craft work for boys and girls, singing, drill, dramatics, story telling, and Bible Study are among the things provided on the curriculum. The number of courses offered will depend on how many children respond and attend. This school is absolutely free for all children and is given for everybody who desires to attend regardless of faith or religious affiliations.

The foundation of the school is systematic instruction in the Bible and Americanization but a good time is provided for the children as well. All work and no play makes Jack or Jill a dull boy or girl. The useful things of life have an important place in this work.

A treat will be provided each week for the children and a big picnic and over night hike is to be given the boys and girls who have been punctual and faithful during the duration of the school. The work done is to be carefully graded and credits given on each child's report card.

The school opens promptly at 8:30 a. m., Monday, July 14 and runs until August 8th. No school will be held on Saturday or Sunday. The sessions are held only in the mornings and dismissal is arranged for 11 a. m.

Rev. and Mrs. V. K. Aubrey, who have conducted several of these Daily Vacation Bible Schools during the past few years state that the people have been good in responding to appeal to assist. None of the teachers are to be paid. All the work is given as work unto the Lord for his little children. In fact the interest has been very marked. No fee or charge is made the children but many people have asked to assist in defraying expenses without any solicitation whatever. Parents here is an opportunity for your boys and girls.

Geppert hit a short fly to Kelly in left and Jeff held third making no attempt to see a Skipper Fowlkes was next up and after working the count on Ragan, the "squeeze" was put on and Jeff raced for the plate with Ragan's delivery and scored when the Skipper laid down a perfect bunt that Ragan kicked into the stand in his attempt to field it quickly. Jeff, however, would have scored if Ragan had made the play, perfect as the play was handled to perfection by both himself and the skipper. The game abounded in sensational plays by both clubs with the work of Leedy standing out as the best of either infield and the Gloomy one handled twelve chances perfectly during the afternoon play. The main outstanding fact however was the way the Indians absolutely stopped when Jeffries took the mound and if there was ever any doubt about the Mexia are having the Indian sign on the Waco club it was dispelled then and there.

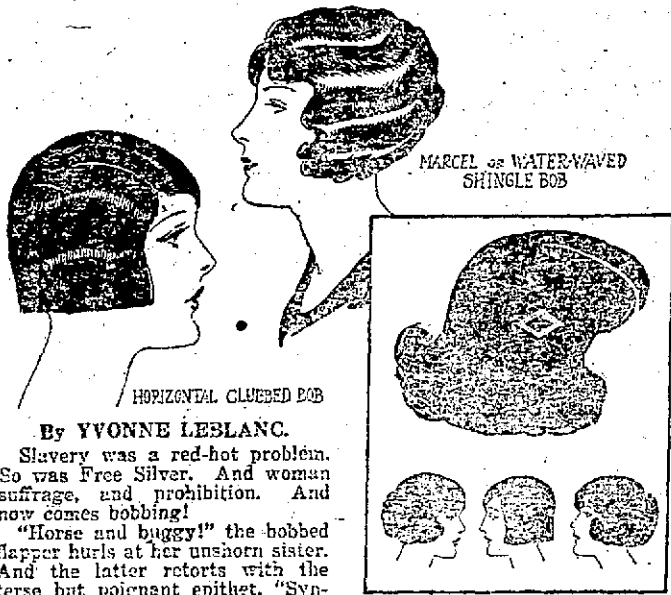

The Gushers today are playing a double header with the Corsicana Oilers and it looks like Turner and Hill will be on the firing line against Cantrell and either Crockett or Gernand and the way the Gushers are hitting and playing now they should win the Oilers in both games—anyhow, here's hoping.

New Type of Coiffure May Bring Peace In the Battle of Bobbed and Unbobbed

By YVONNE LEBLANC.

Slavery was a red-hot problem. So was Free Silver. And woman suffrage, and prohibition. And now comes bobbing!

"Horse and buggy" the bobbed flapper hurls at her unshorn sister. And the latter retorts with the terse but poignant epithet, "Synthetic Sal!" The word "Synthetic" is a big catch phrase. But like Topsy, the phrases "Horse and Buggy" and "Synthetic Sal" "just grew." They are the sparks of the battling bobbers and the long-haired anti.

Meantime bobbing is at a sort of standstill. That is, high tide has been reached. The next six months may see the passing of the fad or, on the contrary, its permanent entrenchment in the field of fashion. One problem has been definitely solved, however. The bobber is learning neatness and style of coiffure. A new and ingenious use for the Gainsborough hair net has been designed by leading world hairdressers. It makes a bewitching new coiffure for both the bobbed and the unbobbed. This style of hair-dress is stunning and tidy. It is the chic, slightly-clinging silhouette effect required by the new fashion. It is particularly helpful when hot weather disturbs the coiffure. The filmy invisible net preserves the wave or marcel, reducing hair-dressing bills, and when used on the unbobbed hair gives the striking bobbed effect. So, the famous Paris hair-dresser, has prepared a series of Gainsborough charts showing precisely what bob best suits your particular type of face. These free charts, at drugstores catering to beauty needs, are solving the bobbing problems of both "Horse and Buggy" and "Synthetic Sal."

MRS. F. P. HUCHINGSON ENTERTAINS

The "13" Sewing club had one of its "once the month" parties on last Thursday evening with Mrs. Huchingson as hostess.

Mrs. Huchingson chose as her place of entertainment her most comfortable camp at the Reunion Grounds and included as guests, the husbands of the members of the club.

A most delicious dinner was served twenty-two guests being seated at the festive board.

The menu consisted of fried chicken, rice, gravy, sliced tomatoes, potato salad, fruit salad, potatoe chips, corn on cob, olives, hot rolls, ice tea and angel food and chocolate cake.

After dinner the beautiful display of fireworks and the other amusements of the Reunion Grounds were enjoyed, the evening concluding merrily with a final gathering at the camp before adjourn for the night.

Mrs. Huchingson, as usual was charming as hostess and gave to the club and its "better half" another most pleasing memory.

MAKERS OF MEXIA

The high standard of excellence maintained by the Mexia Daily News during the past three weeks, while I was attending the National Democratic convention, has been indeed gratifying to me and I am sure noticeable to and appreciated by the reading public. Although we love to be missed when we are gone and although each may attach considerable importance to his own relations and services, inspiration is felt by everyone who contemplates that there is always some one fully able and competent to take his place and carry out whatever mission and ambition he may have in life. Major N. P. Houx, associate editor, stepping into the breach and assisted by other members of the loyal force in the News Publishing Company, worked day and night, with great sacrifice and success, in publishing a newspaper of which the city must be greatly pleased. Despite the fact that Major Houx has devoted many of the best years of an already long and useful life to Mexia and this community, the test of the past three weeks, and it was truly a grueling test, indicates that he yet retains that vigor of physique and mind and tenacity of purpose, characteristic of him of old and essential in every well organized newspaper office where every man is inspired with a desire to serve rather than to be served.

Mexia is not a one man town and the Mexia Daily News is not a one man newspaper. It is the ambition of this newspaper, held constantly in mind and seated deep in the hearts of everyone connected with it, to be a real factor in building here a bigger and better Mexia. All its friends are likewise appreciated.

LIONS VOTE TO ADJOURN FOR MONTHS OF SUMMER

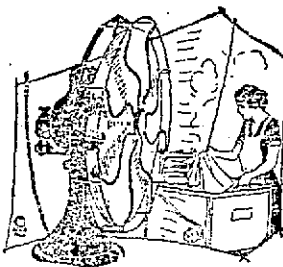

Had one not known that the club had voted to adjourn for the summer months they would have thought that the music had just begun. The attendance was the best in the last few months, the lunch served by the Topic Cafe was excellent and the program led by Lion Poteet was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

Rotarian Albert H. Berry, guest of Lion Hollingsworth made a splendid talk on the International. Due to the fact that he was in the Lions Den he very graciously shared the honors with the Lions International.

Messrs. Frank Werner, Chas. Clover and Fred Scott introduced as the rough neck trio, rendered a medley of old songs that were enjoyed by everyone and immediately lost for them their new name.

Noel Hollingsworth then gave his report on his trip to the International Convention at Omaha-Nebraska. His report is given in another column in this paper, but we will mention here the telegram from Mrs. Hollingsworth that arrived too late.

TEXAS OIL PRODUCTION

In the course of a survey of Texas resources and industries that is constantly being made by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company it has been ascertained that in 1923 Texas produced 136,308,382 barrels of petroleum which was valued at approximately $162,200,000. This is a larger number of barrels but slightly lower aggregate value than for either of the last three preceding years.

This oil was produced in 23 counties. In 1922 but 27 counties produced oil, while in 1920 only 22 counties are listed. The greatest production in 1923 came from Navarro County; in 1922 Limestone County led, while in 1921 Stephens County was first and in 1920 Wichita County led the list.

FOURTH OF JULY IN MATAMOROS MEXICO

By JIMMIE PITTMAN

Mexico is called "The Land of Tomorrow," and justly so, for nowhere else can be found a more languid, easy going race. To them time does not mean money but rather a certain number of days that must pass before they are gathered in by their Maker.

The Peon class have no thought for the future. They will spend their last penny for a gayly colored handkerchief or for "Dulces" candy. Perhaps in the Tomorrow Mexico will wake from her prolonged sleep and develop her many natural resources and take her place with the other nations of the world.

July the Fourth was a gala day in H. Matamoros, Tamps. It was celebrated by a bull fight in the Plaza De Toros, by several Cock Fights in the Patio of the Motezuma and in "El Motezuma," El Jardin and other bars by our good American citizens trying to be bad.

One of the most interesting sights I saw while there was a well dressed young man about thirty years old, doing a cross between American Luck and Wing and the Hula Hula, using a hand carved Mexican walking stick as a tambourine and dancing to the tune of "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More," rendered in double quick time by an African orchestra.

I guess every American citizen has a desire to see a bull fight, but few of us have the privilege of doing so. The Arena at Matamoros is between seventy five and one hundred feet across with a wall about six feet high all around it, then about eight feet from this wall is another and higher one and directly back of this wall are the seats, rising to a height of about forty of fifty feet.

At the appointed time the Matadors, Toreadores, Banderillos, Picadores and the Picadores' helpers enter the Arena. The Picadores are the only ones that are mounted. The horses used are the very poorest specimens obtainable and a red bandanna handkerchief is tied over their right eye. The Picadores themselves are so padded from the hips down that they have absolutely no control over their legs and when thrown from their horses are completely at the mercy of the bull.

The Matadors and Banderillos are dressed in skin tight trousers of silk and satin with jackets to match, the whole suit being covered with all-over lace and spangles. Their stockings and slippers are pale pink, regardless of the color of their suits.

The gate to the Arena is opened and as the bull passes through the narrow run way to the ring, a dagger about eight inches long and gayly decorated with crepe paper is plunged to the hilt directly back of his shoulder. This infuriates the bull and he makes a charge for the first thing he sees, usually one of the horses. After one or two of the horses have been gored to death the rest are driven out and then the Toreadores get in some fancy work with their brightly colored mantles.

When the bulls are sufficiently infuriated or the Toreadores become tired—I could never decide which—the Banderillos come forward with the Banderilleros. These are gaily colored sticks about two feet long decorated with crepe paper and with a sharp hook in one end. Going to the center of the ring the Banderillos induces the bull to charge when he plunges the Banderiller deep into the flesh on either side of his shoulders. Six of these are used.

Then the Matador gets out his red cloth and his sword and after playing with the bull for a few minutes induces him to charge against the sword, which is plunged into the bull's heart, starting just back of the shoulder blades.

When the bull falls an attendant rushes forward with a short, V shaped knife and severs the spinal cord. The fight is over. A pair of mules, also decorated with crepe paper are driven in and the bull dragged out. He is immediately skinned and taken to one of the various markets.

The bugle sounds and another bull enters the ring to meet his death. I saw one Matador knocked down and another thrown over the fence, but he was at a previous fight.

The Matadors were Jose Ramirez and Jose Flores both men having fought in the arenas of Madrid and Mexico City.

The bulls were Malpaso bulls from the Malpaso Rancho in Zacatecas, Mexico and were raised especially for fighting. Four bulls are usually killed at each fight.

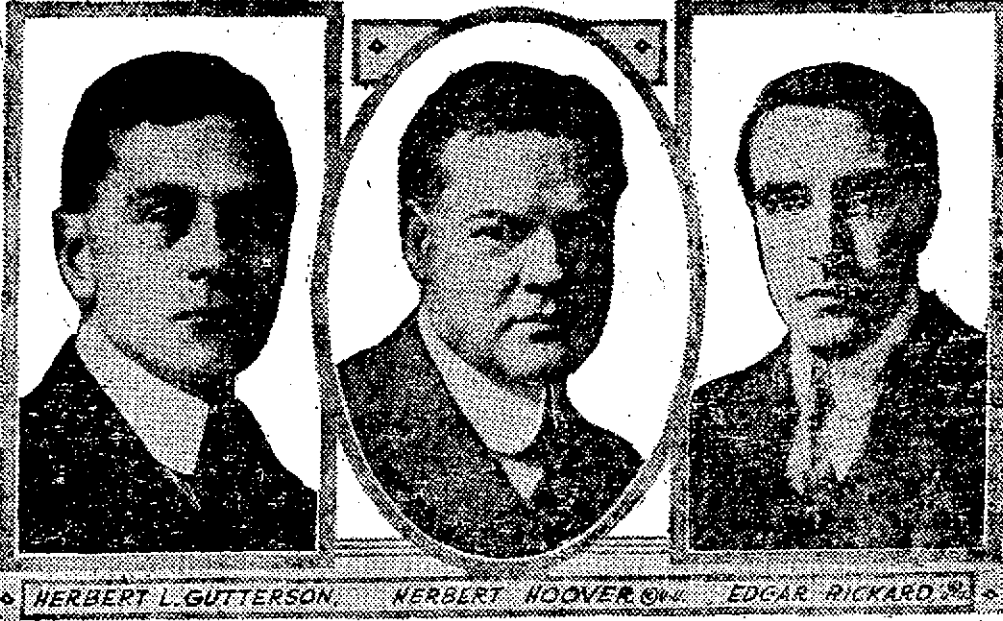

I was told that no Matador will fight a Braham or a jersey bull, because they are the only cattle known to keep their eyes open when they charge. This may or may not be true.

I was fortunate in having Mr. George Brown of San Benito with me on his other trips into the interior of Mexico, as he speaks Spanish like a native and is thoroughly acquainted with their habits and customs and I was in this way able to learn more regarding our neighbors than would have otherwise been possible.

We ended the day by seeing a cock fight and getting one more drink, after which we were able to see bulls, cocks and men all in one grand and glorious battle.

It was sure some Fourth.

Most Appropriate Memorial, Declares Herbert Hoover, as $1,000,000 Appeal Begins for Walter Hines Page School

The support of the nation is sought by the trustees who will establish the $1,000,000 fund to be raised in connection with the proposed Walter Hines Page School of International Relations. The school will be founded at Johns Hopkins University.

"Walter Hines Page was a humanitarian above all else," declared Herbert Hoover, in voicing his approval of the project. "His interest was in his people. He labored for the happiness of others, and in the most practical ways. He believed that they must have education, health, and enough means to rise above the wholly material thoughts of life. For the opportunity of all men to know and have these things he worked unceasingly. Then he believed in democracy as equal share and an equal duty in the common life. And he believed in international good-will. He worked all his life for these ideals, and he died for them."

"The most appropriate memorial to him is an educational institution, because it too will work, and will further the things he worked for. The proposal of a school of international affairs, to be named for him, is just such an appropriate memorial."

Edgar Rickard, director-general of the American Relief Administration, and Herbert L. Guttererson are members of the control committee of the proposed school, which aims to eliminate international strife and establish good-will and understanding among the nations of the world.

From headquarters of the organization, 111 Broadway, New York, the trustees, among whom are numbered thirty nationally known educators, statesmen, publishers and businessmen, have issued an appeal, which reads in part as follows:

"The proposed Walter Hines Page School of International Relations will offer unique facilities for the post-graduate training of men competent to consider international problems from a statesman's high viewpoint, and to understand the art of diplomacy with the most comprehensive grasp of its true essentials. No such school or college exists. . . . The place for this living memorial should be at Johns Hopkins University. Mr. Page became a fellow at Johns Hopkins in the first years of the existence of this unique post-graduate institution with which were many of his associations. Furthermore, Johns Hopkins, as the pioneer post-graduate and research university, has the experience and allied departments necessary for the most advantageous development of the school. Its location, within an hour from Washington, thus being accessible to the Library of Congress, the State Department, and all the other treasures of Government information, provides an ideal site. . . . The fund required to found the school is $1,000,000. The capital sum will yield an income sufficient to provide for professorships, fellowships and library which are essential. . . . We ask the general public support in the erection of this post-graduate school in the form of contributions to the capital sum. . . . The creation of such a living institution will not only be an investment enriching these contributions, which we, as Americans, can make for the progress of civilization, but it will preserve for the youth of our country the example and influence of a noble American."

Contributions may be sent to the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations, 111 Broadway, New York City.

We want the news, all the news of all the people, while it is news, and requests the readers to send in as much news as possible and personals of their friends and acquaintances.

Entered as second-class matter, February 26, 1919, at the Postoffice at Mexia, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.—Acts. 10:34-35.

Henry Morganthau of New York who was one of Woodrow Wilson's closest friends and supporters is convinced that the democratic party can elect the next president if it nominates the right candidate. Millionaire Morganthau declined to name the right candidate. He is said to have a very high opinion of John W. Davis of West Virginia and New York.

THE INSIDE STORY

The series of articles now appearing in The Mexia Daily News, by A. Garland Adair, and dealing with various aspects of the National Democratic Convention, will unravel the amazing story of conditions in the country that menace the life of the party of the people from within and from without. Mr. Adair is giving careful thought to every utterance and is prepared to back up every statement made with proof gleaned personally while in attendance upon the convention just closed in Madison Square Garden. He agrees with a McDoo speaker from South Carolina that he learned some things about the party which he regrets exist. With loyalty to the party and anxious to render Democrats of this territory a real service, by giving them the truthful story of the convention, so that they may investigate and draw their own conclusions, The News is carrying this series of articles and commends them to the attention of all citizens of this section and other sections as well. They are written with the touch of local color, enhancing their interest to Texans and are further given in the hopes that they will form educational documents helpful to loyal Democrats and patriotic American citizens of all political faiths, regardless of race or creed. Watch for "Here's How It Happened. The Inside Story of the Democratic National Convention of 1924."

The first of the series appeared Friday and dealt with the fight of the vets against Mr. William Gibbs McDoo. If you do not have a copy of the issue of that date, you may secure one by calling at the office of The Mexia Daily News.

LABOR'S VIEW ON UNIVERSAL CONSCRIPTION

The proposal that the government conscript wealth and labor at home, as well as men for the ranks, during war, would naturally seem to be one which would appeal to the ranks of labor. The statement made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, shows that labor sees both sides of the question and considers what would be best for the nation as well as what might be good for labor. He says:

"In theory, universal conscription in time of war is correct. It is right that the Government should take wealth as well as men. But I am unwilling at this time to be dogmatic one way or the other. I realize that not every theory can be applied in this world of human fallibility."

"I should like to be certain the universal conscription will go away with profiteering, and that it will not be a means of destroying our economic life and ruining our standards of life and work after war."

"In theory, universal conscription is just. We do not want another war. But if defense of great principles requires such a sacrifice, I believe our people will respond as they always have responded. We want to be sure that in preventing injustice and profiteering we do not build up something worse, something perhaps more hampering."

"I should like to see a commission, composed of men from all walks of life, representing all forms of human effort, give study to this great question. We want no more war, but if we must have war, we want to be as effective as possible and we do not want abuses and profiteering at home. What are the measures to be taken? We cannot determine that question according to emotional desires, probably not according to abstract principles and probably not according to any pre-arranged formula."

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE LATE CONVENTION

However much we may dislike to admit it, there are many Texas people who now see the wisdom of sending the 40 Texas votes uninstructed.—Groesbeck Journal.

We still maintain that not only would the party have been saved but victory in November assured had the convention resolved at the outset to give the nomination to the stalwart and distinguished West Virginian who finally landed the plum.—Denison Herald.

The Democratic convention in New York had all the thrills that any delegate could have desired. The reading public become about as tired of the proceedings as did the delegates, who had to foot the hotel bills in the great city. Such is the political life.—West News.

We have always believed that legislatures were the past grand masters in the noble art of killing time, but the democratic national convention beats them all.—Riesel Rustler.

It is to be suspected that no woman since Eve tempted her mate in the Garden of Eden, has ever felt that she had the destiny of a land depending upon her shoulders quite so much as did Miss Marion Cooley of Washington, Georgia, when it was discovered Saturday night in Madison Square Garden that upon her vote depended the question of singling out the Ku Klux Klan by name in the Democratic platform. It is said that, faltering and frightened, surrounded by threatening and pleading men, inate and tugging at her arms trying to hoist her to her feet when she was too frightened to rise, she at last gasped out "no," and sank to her seat. Sunday, Miss Cooley was the most talked of, the most interviewed woman in New York. She declared to all of the newspaper men that she changed her vote from "aye" to "no," not for the Klan, but for party success, and that the men about her declared she was "stabbing Mr. McDoo in the back."—Fairfield Recorder.

Tom Taggart says he has quit politics for good. Several other bosses in the convention will not find it necessary to quit. Politics has quit them.—Houston Post.

ALABAMA BOUND

Here we are in Memphis, Tennessee, the day has been fine and everything has gone well with us. Today we saw the rice fields for over thirty miles and just rice.

The roads were fine except we found lots of dust.

We experienced the high tressels, high bridges and low ferries today. There is a thrill to this that you don't get elsewhere.

Tonight (July 9th) we are camped in the Overton park, and here they have the prettiest drives to be found in this part of the country along with the zoo and many other attractions.

Tomorrow we expect to make our final lap and stop in Florence, Ala. We expect to visit Muscle Shoals and make some pictures while there. Some of these you will see later.

Yours truly,
A. M. WESSON.

GOVERNMENT IS IN CONTROL OF SOA PAULO REVOLT

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 10.

"The government has complete control of the situation," a brief communique on the revolt in Sao Paulo said tonight.

It was indicated, however, that the remaining rebel strongholds have not yet been reduced although they are surrounded by loyal forces.

A number of prisoners arrived here today from Santos. Apparently the rebels are in two groups, in the Lus military barracks, near the big Luz railway station and the Santa Ana barracks, about five miles away. A rigid censorship continues and any estimate of the total dead and wounded is impossible. It is probable figures never will be given out.

Late official communications confirm reports that the revolt was not purely military, but has a political aspect. The names of the political leaders involved, however, are not mentioned in official communiques. Government forces are in complete control of Santos and apparently there has not been any fighting there at any time. Government forces have been using Santos as a base of operations ever since the fighting started and is transferring all prisoners to that city, from which they are brought to Rio De Janeiro on naval transports.

The Senate and the Chamber of Deputies today adopted resolutions declaring their complete support of the Federal Government, President

Bernardes and the Sao Paulo State troops are cooperating with the Federal units.

The noon communique today said: "Military operations against the Sao Paulo rebels are following their normal course."

"Progress of the loyal troops continues satisfactorily while the situation of the rebels becomes more difficult hourly."

"The number of desertions from the rebel camps is increasing."

THERE'S ART IN BOBBING

It's no longer a question of snip, snip and it's off.

Particular women now demand that the hair which remains form a becoming frame for the face and gracefully outlined head.

That's where "art" comes in, for there are as many styles of bobs as there are bobbed haired girls and women. Each one is an individual problem of chin, eyes, nose and mouth.

Then there's the fashionable element—the smart touch which has always associated Paris with women's coiffures—

And the necessity of keeping the hair glossy, fluffy and clean.

All that fastidious women desire will be accomplished by a weekly visit and a small sum well spent at—

More Land Available If River Straightened

EL PASO, Texas, July 12.—There will be two thousand acres more land available for cultivation in the El Paso valley if the river is straightened according to present plans.

This land, which is at present too close to the river to be properly drained by deep channels, could be reclaimed by the Elephant Butte irrigation project, and would be very rich, because of silt deposits from the river.

MANY FROM SIXTH DISTRICT AND MEXIA ATTEND NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION N. Y.

Quite a number from this Congressional District attended the National Democratic Convention at New York, at least for a part of the prolonged session. A. Garland Adair, of The Mexia Daily News, was asked by Judge W. C. Davis of Bryan to go to New York and be prepared to serve in his stead as delegate from this district, in case the condition of his wife was such that he would not be permitted to attend. Later, it developed that Mrs. Davis was out of danger after undergoing two operations in a Sanitarium at Galveston and Judge Davis arrived in New York on the day the convention opened. Mr. Adair had been, in the meantime, tendered the proxies of alternates H. O. Tatum of Wortham and Wayne Howell of Corsicana. Later during the convention, Delegate Colonel Jackson of Hillsboro had to return home and Mr. Adair was accorded his seat with the delegation. Also, when Hon. Alva Bryan of Waco had to return to Texas on account of a physical break down, following his grueling experience on the platform committee from Texas, he tendered his proxy and power of attorney for the convention over to the Mexia newspaper man, with the instruction to use it for the good of the Democratic party and America.

Following the adjournment of the Toronto convention of Rotarians, Albert H. Berry of this city reached New York and was given one of the alternate delegates badges from this district. Thus he was entitled to serve with the delegation until he left. With him was Hon. Luther Johnson of Corsicana, Congressman from this District, who spent several days in attendance upon the session. In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Landrum of this city arrived with the Arkansas delegation and the Texans from this district aided them in securing convention tickets. They attended every session while in New York and found the convention hard to leave. Mrs. Sterling D. Proctor of Teague reached New York early during Convention week. She is a daughter of Hon. W. R. Boyd of Teague, Freestone county, Sixth Congressional District. She was on a visit with her sister, Mrs. W. R. Boyd, Jr. of New York City. So interesting was the convention to her that she found her seat in Madison Square Garden during the early periods of each session, none of which she missed.

Near the close of the convention and after Mr. and Mrs. Landrum, Albert Berry and Colonel Jackson of Hillsboro, formerly of Limestone county and others had returned, Lowry Martin, Business manager of the Corsicana Sun and Mrs. Martin, sister of Mrs. Rosco Cook of this city, reached New York. Mr. Martin was in time to witness the clash on the convention floor over naming the Klan in a denunciatory plank in the party platform. He was seated with the Texas delegates, with Hon. Cato Sells. They talked about the Lone Star Centennial and J. K. Hughes more than they listened to the proceedings of the convention prior to the platform fight. Cato Sells is Chairman of the prospective Centennial and Mr. Martin is Secretary.

Each delegate was allotted his own ticket and one for a guest. By securing all the alternates badges and admission books, those from this district were easily taken care of, however, many delegations from other districts and other states were too generous with their tickets at the outset and failed to take care of all who wanted to attend the convention from their home vicinities.

It is safe to say that outside of the big cities of Texas, such as Dallas, Houston and San Antonio, Mexia, Limestone county and the Sixth District were the best represented of all units of the Lone Star State at the memorable convention.

The last few days of the convention found Judge C. S. Bradley present, eagerly watching the proceedings and listening to every utterance of the official program conducted.

In all those present from this district were:
Judge W. C. Davis, Bryan.
Colonel Will Jackson, Hillsboro.
Albert Berry, Mexia.
Mrs. W. B. Landrum, Mexia.
W. B. Landrum, Mexia.
Lowry Martin, Corsicana.
Mrs. Lowry Martin, Corsicana.
Hon. Luther Johnson, Corsicana.
A. Garland Adair, Mexia.
Mrs. Sterling D. Proctor, Teague.
Judge C. S. Bradley, Groesbeck.

FRIENDS IN EAST BOYS GO TO CAMP

Mrs. Sterling D. Proctor of Teague is on a visit with her brother, W. R. Boyd, Jr., in New York City. She was accompanied East by her son whom she placed in a Summer Training Camp in the Lake Region of the North. W. R. Boyd, Jr., III, is also attending the Summer Camp. Mr. Boyd, formerly of this part of Texas, son of W. R. Boyd of Teague is with the National Petroleum Institute and maintains headquarters in New York.

W. B. Landrum returned Saturday from an extended visit in Arkansas and the East where he and Mrs. Landrum attended the National Convention of the Democratic party. He admits that the stories about the delegates and visitors to New York being on the verge of financial collapse had more truth than poetry in them.

ANNUAL REUNION JOE JOHNSTON CAMP CONFEDERATE VETERANS JACKS CREEK JULY 15 TO 18

The thirty-sixth annual reunion of Joe Johnston Camp No. 94, Confederate Veterans, will be held at the Reunion grounds for four days next week—Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 15-18.

The following data is taken from the official program, just issued from the Daily News job department, and will be of interest to all who are arranging to attend this big annual event:

Heartly Welcome

The remaining few of the Joe Johnston Camp welcome you to their "Confederate Park." We feel we could have builded no more fitting monument to those who wore the Gray, than is this plot of ground.

We believe its beauty is really in its incipency, and that the Sons and Daughters of this camp will feel it is theirs to "carry on" after our efforts have ceased, and that this may be known far and wide as one of the beauty spots of Texas, as well as a perpetual memorial to the Confederate Soldiers.

Tuesday night.
8:30—Band concert at pavilion by Mexia Elks Band.
Business Meeting of Camp.
Wednesday at 10 a. m. roll call. Transacting of all business pertaining to the camp.
11 a. m. Address by Congressman Luther Johnson.
12 a. m. Dinner served to old "Confeds" by Sons and Daughters, at the Poco club house. Music by Mexia Elks Band.
8:30 p. m. Concert at pavilion by Mexia Elks Band.

Historical.
The Joseph E. Johnston Camp No. 94, met Saturday, March 1, to set the date of the Reunion and to attend to any other business that might come before it.

The following resolution was read and adopted:
About thirty-eight years ago a number of Confederates met at Jacks Creek and organized a camp of Confederate Veterans and named it the Joseph E. Johnston. They located the annual meetings at the present reunion grounds. They afterward bought twenty acres and laid it off in streets and lots for camping purposes, and they have met every year from that time until this, each year improving and adding to the grounds as they became able. They bought additional lands until they now own seventy-two acres deeded to the Confederates and their descendants. It is laid off in lots and streets and improved in every way with sewerage system, light plants, and the grounds blooming with beautiful flowers. There are concrete walks, and a macadamized road from the grounds to Mexia. We are indebted to the big-hearted Colonel A. E. Humphreys in assisting us in the undertaking, and we are assured by the Pure Oil Company that they will aid and assist us in beautifying and improving the grounds.

We had three objects in view when we organized. First, to prepare a place for the old soldiers to meet and enjoy themselves. Second, to educate the rising generation to the causes of the war; and third, as a monument to the heroic dead of the 600,000 men who battled for the right of self-government for four years, contending with 3,000,000 until 115,000 fell dead on the battle fields, and 440,000 wounded as shown by General Barnes' report of the Confederate army as filed in the archives at Richmond. To perpetuate the memory and make a pleasure resort for future generations as the line is growing thin, we resolve in order to strengthen our organization to make all Sons and Daughters of Confederates honorary members by them sending their names to the Adjutant, Mattie B. Watson. Resolution presented by C. L. Watson.

Motion carried that the reunion be held from July 15 to 18 inclusive. Everybody invited to attend and enjoy the occasion with us. The following committees were appointed:
Invitation.
W. E. Doyle, J. P. Yeldell, John Jackson, Jim Kimball.
Privilege.
J. P. Yeldell, C. L. Watson, Rado Steele.

Program and Entertainment.
Miss Mattie Watson, Miss Mamie Kennedy.
Motion to adjourn carried.

For the pleasure of all visitors we call attention to bathing, below the bluff. Also open air dancing at the pavilion. Visit our midway and meet the crowds. Stroll through Cudney Bros. carnival and enjoy all it offers from merry-go-round to ferris wheel.
Again we welcome you and hope you enjoy your visit to this, our 36th annual reunion.

Former Mexia Woman For Representative

Mrs. Charles F. Tom, who lived in Mexia for some time while her husband was engaged in building the good roads in this road precinct several years ago, and who now lives in Gonzales, has announced as a candidate for representative from that county.

Mrs. Tom has many friends in Mexia among the old timers, as she was very active in civic and social affairs, and they will all join in hoping that she will be elected.

Speaking of her announcement, the Gonzales Inquirer says:
The first woman in Gonzales county to announce for office, other than a county office, is Mrs. Chas. F. Tom, whose name was posted in the announcement column today as a candidate for the legislature from this county. Mrs. Tom has been a resident of Gonzales for several years and during that time has shown herself as actively interested in the various women's movements for the betterment of conditions generally being an ardent member of the W. C. T. U.

the Texas League of Women Voters, of which she is district chairman, the Parent-Teacher Association, and other organizations, being probably one of the best informed women over this section of the State regarding such matters. Sande May Quit American Turf

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 10.—Unless a change is made in the Jockey Club rules, this may be the last season that Earl Sande, justly popular rider for the Rancocas Stables, will be seen in action on the American turf.
It is hoped that some change will be made for the tall youngster is the greatest jockey produced in this country—excepting the great Tod Sloan—and would be a shame to lose him.
The trouble is that Sande has great difficulty in making the low weight required of him on our turf. Earl has to take Turkish baths and undergo all sort of nerve racking and other physically weakening exercise and tortures to get down to the 116 pounds so often required of him.
Sande did not quit riding if he had to give up over here. He is the recipient of more flattering offers from other side, especially from England where they want him to ride. Trials of weights in the British Isles on Continent is considerably lighter than here, and Sande would undoubtedly win much fame in Europe.

The formiduous Dakota cowboy has already won that he can give Steve Donohue, until this year, was England's premier jockey, cards and spades, beat him riding any day in the year.

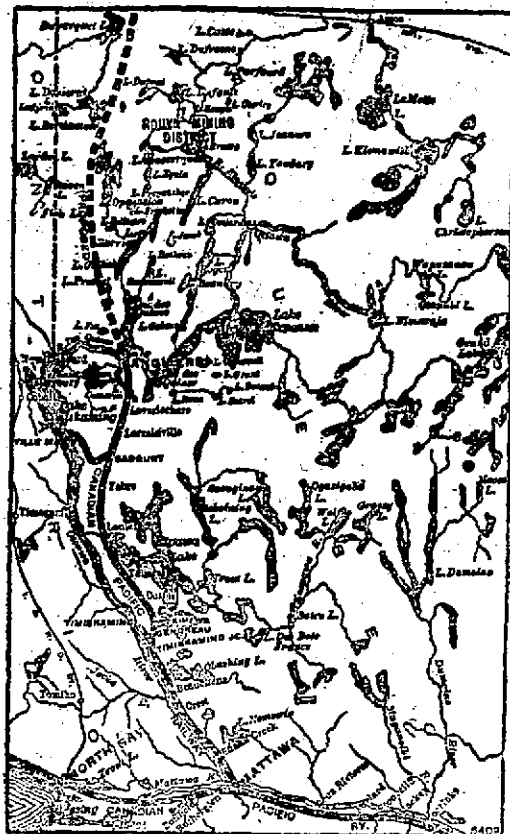

Some say Mrs. Sande who is raising the objection to Earl's continuing to ride here. She believes it is injurious to his health to constantly subject him to the severe strain of taking off.

Of course there will be many races in this country suited to the Rancocas' star rider, but riding but a while would rob Sande of "feel" of the game and deprive him the popularity he has so justly won.

Aside from ability to boot home winners, Sande is distinguished for his gentlemanly manner and good sportsmanship. Among men, he they stewards, trainers, or riders, who have brought credit to the American Sande ranks high.

This twiced lad rode his first winner seven years ago, down in New Orleans, as been kicking them home ever since. There are lots of race fans back Earl, not his mount. They're right often; they're wrong.

All Aboard! Aeroplanes Ready for Quebec's New Gold Field

FLYING BOAT ON LAC DES QUINZE AT ANGLERS
ROUTE TO ROYAL GOLD FIELD BY RAIL AND AIR

Fashions do change! When gold was discovered in California, it took long weeks for word to trickle through to the east by pony express riders. The news of gold in the Klondike had to be transmitted by mail boat and telegraph in the 90's. Today, news of the latest gold fields to be discovered, those of the Royon district in northwestern Quebec, is wirelessly and rapidly to all corners of the world.
The forty-miners made use of burro, mule, schooner and "shank's mare" to reach their El Dorado, many of them remaining as bleached bones along the trail. The tale of Klondike's mad rush—the crowded steamers, the mushroom-like growth of frontier towns—through which the gold-mad rabble hurried on to the mining fields and the indescribable sufferings of man and beast enroute—is still vivid in the minds of many. Today sees a new style in gold-rushes and the miners, prospectors, newspapermen and others whose interests center in Quebec's newly discovered gold fields, travel by rail, motor launch and airplane.

And where is this new Golconda that draws the interest of the world by the promise of its gold? Get out your map of Canada. There is a 12-hour ride from New York City, is the Canadian metropolis. Montreal, headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the first to cooperate with an airplane service

One of those who would be sorriest to see Sande leave is Sam C. Hildreth, trainer and part owner of the Rancocas outfit. Much of the credit for Zev's great year in 1923, and for the big purses the stable has been acquiring of late, goes to Sande.

American riders, especially Sloan, Frankie O'Neill, Everett Hayes and Frank Keogh, have been tremendously successful on European turf. Sande is considered their peer. He should turn out one of the most successful riders of all time, if he goes.

Sande is cool, alert, confident, an excellent judge of pace, as pretty a rider to watch in action as ever threw a leg up. His is the riding genius that enables him to shoot through the rack at the critical moment, or to bring his mount to the finish with a rush that won't be denied.

County of Limestone

Tonsils and Adenoids
Letter No. 6
Giving the Child a Better Chance.

IS YOUR CHILD HANDICAPPED?
Does your child's nose run or is it sore? Does the child snore? Are the eyes red? Are there fever sores or eczema around the nose and mouth?

Does the child seem dull? Does it stand and look at you with open mouth? Does it put its hands to its head as though it had earache? Does it take cold easily? Does the child sleep with its mouth open? Does it snore? If the answer to any of these is Yes, ask the doctor if the child has adenoids or large tonsils.

Tonsils
Tonsils often become diseased and stick out into the throat. Sometimes they do not get any larger but become diseased and contain little cups filled with infection. These diseased tonsils often hold poisonous germs which may cause throat trouble or may be carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness.

Adenoids
Adenoids look like a little head of cauliflower, colored red. They grow in the back part of the throat where the nose and throat join, and can be seen only by the doctor with a special mirror. They stop up the nose and make the child breathe through its mouth.

When the child breathes through the mouth, much dust and many germs get into the body. Adenoids should always be removed.

Earache
Earache often means that the child has adenoids. Earache always means that the child is in danger of getting deaf. Also the child is in danger of getting a running ear and there is danger of the disease reaching the brain. A running ear should always be treated by an ear doctor; it will not get well without good care.

Large Glands
Often poison gathers in the nose, throat or ears. The glands of the neck try to carry this poison away. This overwork makes the glands enlarge and lumps often form.

Other Diseases
Diseased tonsils and adenoids hold poisonous germs which frequently are carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness. Rheumatism and heart disease often come in this way. These germs also cause stomach, bowel or lung diseases.

A child with adenoids and diseased tonsils can get diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough very easily. Such a child will have the disease worse than a child who has had adenoids and diseased tonsils removed.

Stupid Children
Often children who seem stupid and who do not learn rapidly can be made healthy and normal by the removal of diseased tonsils and adenoids.

It is wrong to blame children for backwardness when they cannot hear, see or smell properly or are suffering from pains from diseased tonsils or adenoids.

Have Them Removed
Adenoids and diseased tonsils can be removed at any time of the year. Don't wait, thinking they will get better. It is dangerous. The child may lose its hearing if you put it off.

Watch carefully for the danger signals—mouth breathing and earache. Always go to a good doctor at once.

Will be glad to make examination free and explain in detail.

Here's How it Happened

The Inside Story of the National Democratic Convention.

By A. GARLAND ADAIR
Managing Editor of The Mexia Daily News

Upon the arrival of the Texas-McAdoo Special in New York City Sunday morning prior to the opening of the Democratic Convention on Tuesday, they found many delegates on the ground already, and workers busy and prominent in their endeavor to rally support to favorite sons for President from about twenty states.

The New York newspapers gave appearance of having already been bought and paid for by the Al Smith ring and the first impression the newspapers tried to create was that there was no other candidate that had a ghost of a show. Every day after that for two weeks, the headlines generally were to the effect that "Al Smith Continues Gaining Votes," "Al Smith Breaks the Solid South," "Al Smith to Sweep Convention Into Line." And these newspapers really had the New Yorkers thinking that they would surely witness his triumph as the choice of the convention. They could not conceive of anything else happening in view of what they had read in the newspapers and what they saw for themselves in the voteless galleries of the Madison Square Garden.

New York was very courteous at first and until convention developments began to show that America was bigger than New York, many went far out of their way to show their hospitality. It was noticeable at the outset that a vast majority of the reception committees for the various states, appointed by Mayor Hylan, were dyed in the wool Al Smith campaigners.

With the newspapers and with the reception committees favorable to the favorite son of New York City and New York State, and bitterly opposed to Mr. McAdoo, Texans early realized that they were in the camps of the enemy.

Opponents of Mr. McAdoo even went to the extreme expense of publishing a convention newspaper and distributing it freely to the delegates daily throughout the siege. This was called The New York Bulletin and it was freely declared to be the mouthpiece of the Vatican. It was born a day or two before the convention opened. Whether it is to continue to exist cannot be said. It can truly be said that The Bulletin did more to defeat the cause it espoused than any other single factor. It was so intolerantly bigoted and so radically Al Smith, so provincial and narrow in its editorial and news policies; so venomous toward the South and so bitter toward the Ku Klux Klan that its influence was soon narrowed to the ones who were violently in sympathy with its campaign of vituperation, effort, falsehood, and super intolerance. All way through, the delegations from the South, including McAdoo, were proclaimed to be representatives of "pore white trash" and "descendants of carpet baggers."

The best articles that appeared in any newspapers in New York were those written daily in The American by William Jennings Bryan. He wrote with fairness and in the spirit of justice, truth and party loyalty.

Friday, the convention opened in the arena where many titular pugilistic encounters have been staged in the past.

The beautifully decorated historic hall, the sky of banners, the hair trigger acclaims of the hosts of partisan crowd, the calm smile of confidence on the face of Democrats ready to give battle for the cause of Democracy, all the evidences of the proverbial spirit of great party conventions was there from the moment National Chairman Cordell Hull hammered with his gavel to the thunders of the plaudits of welcome to the time when Pat Harrison closed his keynote address with a magnificent tribute to Woodrow Wilson.

The meeting itself was impressive, enthusiastic and exciting, attaining the proportions almost, in these respects, to the one in San Francisco in 1920, during the life and administration of Wilson, when the gladiators of the party assembled in their victorious convention by the waters of the Pacific.

There were two aspects to the situation, the visible and the visible or the audible and inaudible. The visible and audible have been referred to above. The invisible and the inaudible, at the opening session, was in the air of expectancy, of exasperation, the atmosphere of hostility which never did clear up, the threatening attitude, later which broke forth with threats of injury and reprisal growing out of the bitterness of the fight for the nomination.

The delegates had had difficulty in getting two tickets each for the session. They looked at the galleries and discovered that at least 10,000 citizens of New York were there and how they got tickets none but the Smith campaign managers ever learned. There were only about 1200 delegates but someone had counterfeited about 500 badges, according to the discoveries later made and announced by the authorized delegates. These of course went to the Al Smith crowd. Of course, the wearer was not entitled to a vote but he could and did lift a voice whenever the opportunities presented and there were many of them. On top of this, grafters lined the streets and sold tickets at so much a piece and thus entered the sanctuary of the Democratic party.

The police were superb looking but just how many of them stood in with these ticket scalpers and how much they got out of it will never be known, even thought Walsh should be made chairman of the probers. It became generally known before the close of the convention that anyone wearing a Smith button who would indicate his or her hopes for his nomination they could get by a full squad of police on every corner and at every door. It was the pass word to the hall. In the meantime, there were many who had traveled almost across the continent who were not privileged to enter the convention hall and who refused to give the pass word.

The keynote address has been read all over the United States as well as the resolutions of respect to Woodrow Wilson which were passed at the first and opening session.

The geographical location of the convention, and the contrast provided by the deep Southern nativity of the keynoter, were quite impressive. Chairman Harrison began with a rush that won prompt attention. He aroused great enthusiasm as he proceeded, denouncing pampered privilege and analyzing, with furious invective and statistics, the hidden iniquities of the Mellon tax plan. The speech, like a slice of prime bacon, showed the appropriate proportion of fat and lean. He talked about the golden apples of special privilege that have been gathered by the favored few of the Republican party, referring to them as petted and pampered puppets.

He said there was not to be harmony but nevertheless pleaded for it. This part of his address indicated that he was not speaking what was in the mind of the alcoholic interests of the party.

In this connection, he wisely said: "Nothing must happen here to divide our council or dampen our ardor. The fires of Democracy must not flicker. The hope of the people raises in the action of this convention. There must be no skulking; there can be no mutiny. Winning is not wicked; strategy is no sin. Far better is it for the American people and the future of the Democratic Party that in this convention we deny to ourselves some vaunted expression or surrender some temporary advantage, that we may succeed in this campaign, than tenaciously to persist and lose."

If a man doesn't think right it is impossible for him to act right.

WACO HELPLESS BEFORE JEFFRIES

Gushers Get to Schmid and Pound Out 8-0 Victory.

Waco was helpless before Jeffries, while Schmid was no puzzle to the Gushers, Mexia scoring an easy shut-out, 8-0. Waco had but one man left on bases. The Gushers' infield played brilliantly, not a Waco player reaching second base.
